We Asked Them To Do It...

"Our boys offer to give their lives. We are only asked to loan our money."
 That is an excerpt from a Victory Loan speech. It was uttered during the Second and the First Victory Loan campaigns. It will likely be repeated in the Loan period next year. How many of us understand that those boys offer their lives because we ask them to do that!
 Each one of us has had a share in the decision to fight the Germans, and to send our young men over to do the job.
 The men at Dieppe knew it. They steeled themselves to jump out of boats into the bullet-swept beaches because they felt we expected them to do their best for Canada.

If all of us back here in Canada fully realized that fact, how we would hasten to increase our purchases of Victory Loan Bonds!

If our armed forces lose the fight, we at home have lost it, too. Strengthen our armies on land, on sea, in air, with every dollar you can spare. This is the job of those at home.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

I think tonight for want of a better topic I should tell you about Carl's room. Carl, as you know, is Carleton St. Claire Clay (it's the truth) and he is hut supervisor. That means that he has to spend so much time in the Hut that he has thought it worth while to fix himself up a little nest as it were. The homing instinct is strongly developed in our Carl. Well, he cleared out a store room or rather he started to clear out a store room but his ambition waned and he just cleared out enough to put a bed in. Then, with much hammering and mysterious banging during which time none of us were allowed as much as a peek in, he made himself a modernistic dresser, perfectly elegant built-in bed ends and a honey of a cupboard. That is it will be a honey of a cupboard once I have made the curtains for it. Carl likes the material so well that he thinks a couch cover of the same would be natty. It's a refined beige with a suggestion of a brown stripe, neat but not gaudy sort of thing. And, by the look in Carl's eye, the sort of you're the best seamstress I know and you have such big blue eyes, I just know he's going to ask me to make that cover. He'll ask me and I'll do it. I'm that way.
 That noise you heard yesterday wasn't the sound of airplanes as you might have thought. It was just a contingent of poor weary storks trying to take off from the vicinity of the Prince Rupert General Hospital. You remember the list of newcomers I gave you a few days ago. Well here are two more to add: born to Private and Mrs. Larsen, a son starting out life under a thriving name of William Peter, and to L.Cpl. and Mrs. Brock a son, Allan. Both fathers are of the Signal Corps and both babies were born on Sunday, October 25. Congratulations everybody.

How soon can WE end this War?

This is the people's war... it is our war. Each and everyone of us must contribute our utmost to help speed the day of Victory!

If we fail in our duty to lend to the limit, we help make this war last longer.

Let us resolve to back the new Victory Loan to the utmost of our ability. We, on the home front, must strain every fibre that our fighting men may have overwhelming superiority in arms and equipment to crush our still powerful enemies. The dollars we lend NOW will make this possible sooner.

Fred Watson Passes as Navigator In Royal Canadian Air Force

SMITHERS, Oct. 28.—Fred Watson of Smithers has been successful in passing his examinations at Edmonton as a navigator in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Out of a class of 110 only fourteen were successful as navigators who have to have much higher marks than pilots.

Conditions For Bulkley Valley Farming Great

SMITHERS, Oct. 28.—Weather in the Bulkley Valley still remains mild and very Indian summer like. Several days recently have been lost as warm as regular summer weather and while there is some snow on the mountain tops, there has been none fall in the valley as yet and the farmers are getting along with their late season work.
 All other outside work as well is being carried on under very favorable circumstances for this time of the year.
