The Unimpressed Mr. Gandhi...

Despatches from India over the week-end are concerned mainly with two new developments. First the Japanese are making preparations for a thrust into India proper and second Mahatma Gandhi is making preparations for a passive resistance campaign the objective of which is complete independence for India.

In other days one could argue the merits or demerits of the case for India's independence. One could belabour the sluggish movement of Britain's Indian policy. One could even publish sympathetic stories, complete with pictures, of India's inspired leader standing at the head of the untutored masses of his country.

Today other responsible Indian leaders are attempting to weld their people into a united front of defense with the peoples of the United Nations. They, too, are fervently interested in India's independence; anti-imperialism is the substance of their political program. But these leaders realize that their hopes for India's independence will perish when the first Japanese soldier sets foot in Delhi. The new Japanese campaign will result, so they say in the "unity of the eastern races." The progressive leaders in India realize that this unity will be akin only to the unity of the shark with its prey; that Japanese "collaboration" will be the collaboration of the thug with his victim.

Meanwhile Mr. Gandhi continues to make the front page on all Japanese papers and to hold the top rating in all news broadcasts from Tokyo, where he is rated second only to Hirohito himself as the saviour of the Indian masses.

We do not believe that Gandhi will continue as a great influence in Indian politics or that his present campaign will be supported by his people. Consciously or unconsciously he is becoming India's number one Quisling. He refuses to be impressed by the imminent Japanese invasion. We think the Indian people will refuse to be impressed by Mr. Gandhi's Nero-like attitude.

Drydock Leads In Trophy Race

Dry Docks Defeated Americans 5-4 in the Exhibition Games Played at 7:30

Searchlights failed to field a team in their scheduled game with Dry Docks and in doing so dropped from first to third place in the league standing. An exhibition game was played between the Yanks and Dry Docks with the latter victorious by a score of 8-2. MacKenzie, Y.M.C.A. supervisor at Ladlands camp, took the rubber for Dry Docks and hurled a bang-up game, striking out 14 men in seven innings. The Yanks scored their two runs in the sixth inning on two hits and an error.

The Edmontonons won their game by default, the Medicals failing to field a team. The Midlands provided the opposition in an exhibition game and defeated the Fusiliers 3-1. MacKenzie pulled off the iron man stunt by pitching the seven innings for the Midlands, making a total of 14 innings for the day. In the two games he struck out 26 men, which isn't a bad day's work in any man's league. The Midlands scored their three runs in the sixth inning off three hits and an error. Hay, the Midland right smashing double into left field. Barber on the mound for the Fusiliers chalked up twelve strike-outs.

The line-ups:
Yanks—Aubrey, Fernandez, Rosen, Callingham, Moline, Martinez, Corra, Tobert, Burnett, Wal-mont.

Dry Docks—C. Hetherington, J. Hetherington, H. Lewis, McIntyre, Howe, Bary, Simundson, MacKenzie, Ascroft.

Midlands—Barkwell, Hall, Zuppa, MacKenzie, McVeigh, Waggs, Brooks, Acorn, Hay, Bowen.

Gillies-Fowler Rites Take Place

On Saturday evening last a quiet but interesting wedding took place in the chapel of the Annunciation Church. Rev. Father Carroll officiated when Edna Mary, younger daughter of Mr. A. D. Gillies of this city and the late Mrs. Gillies was united in marriage to Sergeant David Fowler, R.C.A. son of Mr. and Mrs. David Fowler of Moncton, N.B.

The bride looked lovely in an afternoon dress of turquoise blue sheer with insertions of lace, and hat en tone. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Thrupp, wore a dress of rose and black with a rose hat, and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Gunner Gillies, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Later a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, where numerous friends of the happy couple called to extend congratulations and best wishes.

Sergeant and Mrs. Fowler left for Vancouver and Victoria for their honeymoon trip.

Edmontonons—Dodge, Wyatt, Barker, Whittaker, McLaughlin, Nimcan, Arnison, Spooner, Paisley, Barber.

WHO ARE THE CANADIAN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS?

40,000 strong, they are responsible for the distribution and sale of merchandise in every city, town, village and hamlet across Canada. Today it is vital to Canada's war effort that this distribution and sale be more carefully operated than ever before. It is to this long established and well organized body that the country-looks for a fair and just spread of available merchandise.

Today's salesman WORKS FOR CANADA...

THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER today is doing a full time job for Canada. In days of peace his major job was the selling of goods. Now, it is his responsibility to see that wartime regulations and restrictions are understood and efficiently carried out.

His wide experience helps retailers function efficiently under trying conditions. His aid in the equitable distribution of rationed goods is invaluable and a definite insurance against shortages in isolated and rural areas and a check to panic buying and hoarding.

His keen judgment is at the disposal of the purchasing agents of rapidly expanding plants. He devotes much time to the problems of conservation so that the life of existing equipment may be prolonged and replacements curtailed. His ingenuity in suggesting alternatives for non-available standard materials averts many a production crisis.

Yes, the salesman today works for Canada, shepherding his territory so that all may share alike in the goods that are available, interpreting government regulations and policies from one end of the Dominion to the other.
