SHIPBUILDING F OF CANADIAN NATIONAL TO BE DOUBLED, ANNOUNCED

This Will Be Done As Soon As Housing Facilities Are Completed—C. N. R. Head Reviews Company's War Activities

SEVEN-DAY WEEK NOW

OTTAWA, April 24: (CP) — The Prince Rupert shipyard will shortly go on a seven-day week plan adopted in agreements signed with other Pacific Coast yards, it was learned officially last night.

MONTREAL, April 24: "In our shipyards we have built minesweepers and we are now engaged on a contract for the building of cargo vessels," said R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways, yesterday in giving a review of the railway system's war activities. "For that purpose we have a force of 1200 men at work now and, when housing facilities are completed, that number of workers will be doubled."

The ability of the Canadian National Railways to deal effectively with the responsibilities of wartime transport was due to the all-out co-operation of its workers, was a statement made by Mr. Vaughan during the course of his welcome to representatives attending the twelfth annual meeting of the system committee of the union management co-operative movement, maintenance-of-way section. Mr. Vaughan added that during 1941 the system had handled the greatest amount of traffic in its history, exceeding the previous peak year of 1928. The performance had been due largely to the manner in which the maintenance-of-way workers had performed their duties in keeping track and bridge structures at the standard necessary to the safe and expeditious operation of the heavy traffic.

Mr. Vaughan made an extensive review of the conditions which face the transportation industry owing to the reduction of materials required and the increased cost of those which are essential to safe operation. As to the system itself Mr. Vaughan reminded his listeners "we operate the largest railway on the North American continent and we have extended our activities. Not only have we added to the tracks but industrial sidings and other war requirements but we have gone into matters also necessary in the war effort. We are manufacturing guns. In our shipyards we have built minesweepers and we are now engaged on a contract for the building of cargo vessels. For that purpose we have a force of 1200 men at work and when housing facilties are completed that number of workers will be doubled."

Mr. Vaughan explained that the company is also operating for the government a number of ships, in addition to the services of the Canadian National Steamships, in which many men are daily risking their lives. He recounted that there have been losses at sea and said that it was the duty of all to support those men and the armed forces engaged in the conflict.

"We must see that the job at home is well done," said Mr. Vaughan, "and I am confident that all the skill and efficiency of our men will be exercised in the support of the struggle to maintain what we choose to call our way of life."

Mr. Hopcraft replied on behalf of the Brotherhood of maintenance-of-way employees and warmly praised all that had been done to develop the co-operative movement. He stressed the advance in safety measures and how the men had been enlisted to prevent waste, lessen the fire hazard and reduce accidents.

Talk of Invasion Is In Air

ROSTOCK POUNDED

Baltic Sea Port Was Target of R.A.F. Last Night—Left Mass of Flames

LONDON, April 24 (Canadian Press)—Canadians helped the Royal Air Force to sow a whirlwind of bombs and blazing flames in a smashing night attack on Rostock, Nazi supply base for the Finnish front. It was revealed today. The Baltic port was evidently badly damaged by the pounding. "All we could see of Rostock was a square of fire as we headed home," reported one Canadian flier. "The town was lit from end to end. Four British planes ties are completed that number of workers will be doubled."

The Royal Air Force was again over Western Europe last night. Berlin and Luxembourg radio stations went off the air about midnight. Berlin admitted today that a British plane had reached there.

Meanwhile German raiders were over southeast and southwest coast towns of England as well as Wales during the night. Three of the enemy air craft were brought down.

One of Machines Which Bombed Japan Last Saturday Makes Forced Landing On Russian Territory

MOSCOW, April 24—Tass News Agency announces that an American bombing plane, the crew of which says it was one of the machines which raided Japanese cities last Saturday, has made a forced landing on the Siberian coast and, in accordance with international law, Russia not being at war with Japan, the machine has been seized and the crew interned. Ambassador William Standley has asked Washington for instructions.

(At Washington both the United States Army and Navy Departments declined to comment on the Moscow report).

An official announcement in Kuibyshev, the provincial capital of Russia, said that a United States bomber which raided Japan last Saturday and then lost its bearings had been forced down in Russian maritime province on the Sea of Japan and the five-man crew had been interned.

It appears to be an already completed test of the year-old Japanese-Russian neutrality pact although United States embassy officials said that instructions were being sought from Washington.

Meanwhile Tokyo seeks to draw information from Washington by broadcasting that America has no way of communicating with American planes which took part in the attack.

NO JAP SITDOWNS

OTTAWA — Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, said yesterday, in answer to a statement made by George Cruickshank, M. P. for Fraser Valley, that there would be no more sitdowns by Japanese on road work. "We have broken the back of the Japanese problem," said Mr. Mitchell.

BIG FIGHT IN RUSSIA

War May Be Settled For Allies On That Front, Declares Lord Beaverbrook

NEW YORK, April 24:—Speaking before the American Newspaper Publishers' Association here yesterday, Lord Beaverbrook declared that Russia is the most important fighting front in the war today. The outcome there may settle the war for the Allies. Russia may be the means by which the whole Axis structure is brought down. If the Soviet should be knocked out of the war, there would never be such another opportunity for the Allies. Therefore, every thing possible must be done to keep Russia supplied.

Declaring that the best form of defence was attack, Beaverbrook said that Britons passionately desired the establishment of a second front.

The newspaper peer, speaking of British politics, said it would be a disaster if Prime Minister Churchill should be displaced.

FOUR ADVANCE VOTERS

At the opening session of the advance poll yesterday in connection with the federal manpower plebiscite only four ballots were cast. The advance poll will continue this afternoon and evening and again tomorrow. Mrs. Percy McIntosh is in charge as deputy returning officer with Miss Edith Johnson as poll clerk. The advance poll is at the office of the returning officer, T. W. Brown.

With the possibility that Telegraph Creek may not vote because supplies could not be delivered in time, there will be 119 polls in Skeena riding for the forthcoming manpower plebiscite on Monday next, it is announced by T. W. Brown, returning officer. Prince Rupert will have twenty-two polling tables.

The enumeration in the city of Prince Rupert for the plebiscite has been completed and shows a total of 4,407 voters as against 3,754 listed for the federal election which took place in March 1940.

Polling on the plebiscite for the City of Prince Rupert will take place in the Toc H Rooms on Monday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voters have been requested to bring with them the slips given to them or left for them by the enumerator so that they may find their proper polling station without delay.

Persons who are qualified to vote but who have inadvertently been left off lists may vote at their proper polling station if they can be vouched for personally by a voter ordinarily resident in the same polling division and whose name is on the list and if, in addition, the voter whose name is off the list brings with him his National Registration Certificate. Ordinary voters whose names are on the lists need not bring with them their National Registration Certificates.
