ROMANTIC WAR TALE

Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant in "Once Upon a Honeymoon"

Cary Grant and Ginger Rogers to- ated for the occasion. gether for the first time as costars, will be the feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Miss Rogers is cast as an American dancer who marries a German baron on the eve of the Nazi march into Austraia and Grant portrays a broadcasting reporter interested in the political game the baron is playing. He follows the newlyweds into Poland which promptly falls, confirming Grant's belief that the baron is Hitler's principal advance agent. The bride realizes that she has made a mistake and, with Grant's help sets about to escape from her titled husband Their dra-. matic adventures ,as they make their way into Holland, then into France, just one jump ahead of the Nazis lead to the exciting conclusion of the story, which reunites the three chief characters in Paris under unusual circumstances.

Boat Building Industry Changed to War Needs—Getting Ready for Halibut Fishing

There was continued activity in the shipyards of British Columbia during the past year but a considerable falling off in normal commercial construction. Supplementing the output of 10,000 ton steel freighters, corvettes and mine sweepers by the steel shipyards on the west coast of Canada, the numerous boatbuilding yards during the past year have been!--largely employed in government war construction. Important launchings were eleven 78 by 211/2 foot seiners built for fishing companies and carrying a subsidy of $165 per ton. Eight other vessels over 40 feet in length were built, being one-third of the number constructed in 1941. Tugboat construction showed an even greater shrinkage, there being only one of the larger class of tugs built. In the non-propelling group there were were 31 scows, two car barges and one drilling barge built com- Now You Can Enlist For pared with a total of 29 in 1941. One of the problems of the fishing industry was to put to work the 1267 Japanese vessels, and this was successfully accomplished. Sales of diesel marine engines increased from 12,680 h.p. to 14,623export sales increasing from 1,735 in 1941 to 4,722 h.p. in 1942. Gasoline engine sales showed a reduction-15,563 in 1941 to 13,085 h.p.

WATER

All users of water are urgently requested to reduce the amount consumed to provide some small reserve in case of fire or other emergency. Remedial measures are in hand but the greatest economy in the use of water will still be absolutely essential. Even a saving of one gallon per person per day will help to improve the situation. Your fullest co-operation is earnestly requested.
