Try New, Improved Ovaltine

Children who are thin, nervous and under par, science has discovered, are often found to be eating foods which do not give them enough of the essential food elements everyone needs for health.

As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in his diet.

Three servings of New, Improved Ovaltine furnish a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of Vitamins A, B₁, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron-also quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins—all for building

Quite a coincidence happened the other day. Chaplain Hayward of the Navy was in to see me and mentioned that, while at H.M.C.S. Givenchy, he had censored a letter addressed to me. I pulled out a package of Navy letters and there was the very letter with his initials on it. It was from Signalman Gordon MacIntyre who used to be up here. He, the chaplain, had noticed it particularly because he had met me on his last trip here.

TALKS OF EDUCATION

Principal W. W. C. O'Neill Addresses Gyro Club and Asks Support for Resolution

'We must and can win the war without sacrificing the interests of our children," declared W. W. C. O'Neill, principal of Booth Memorial School, in speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday, Mr. O'Neill was referring to the importance of maintaining and improving educational standards. It was vital, he declared, that education should not be neglected even in wartime. There should be a realistic attitude on the part of the public with a view to planning for the future, the problems of which the children of today would have to be prepared to face. Mr. O'Neill, whose subject was "A Practical Philosophy of Education," gave his ideas of a practical and full plan of education designed to meet the requirements of the various aspects of a democratic social being.

Mr. O'Neill urged that education should be financed that the young of all communities should have equality of educational facilities and privileges. He then asked support for a resolution calling upon the provincial government assumng, as it was required under the British North America Act to do, the financial responsibility for education so that the poor community might have education for its children of a standard equal to that which the affluent communities were able to provide for themselves.

The petition was referred to the club executives and will come up at the next regular business meeting of the organization.

At the request of President W. Scott, the club, by resolution, assumed the responsibility of conducting the downtown business canvass in the forthcoming Red Cross campaign. Arnold Flaten, are both on active service president of the Red Cross Society but will be back on your felt that there was no excuse f hours a year to work for the Red
