SUNDAY MIDNITE: BRENDA MARSHALL in "SMILING GHOST"

HAD SENSE OF HUMOR

Proprietor of White Elephant Livery Stable at Dawson Creek Had Novel Sign

Dr. R. J. MacDonald, Rev. A. F. MacSween and Corp. E. G. Kidd, provincial police, having been former residents of the area, were particularly interested in the big fire at Dawson Creek in the Peace River country last Saturday night.

The livery stable in which dynamite exploded during the fire was called the White Elephant Livery Stable and it is suggested that, from a business standpoint, there was a good enough reason for calling it such.

The proprietor evidently had a sense of humor for on his sign he showed the legend: "Rickety rigs. Runaway Horse. Reckless Drivers."

Tender, Aching, Burning Feet

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in a few minutes the ache and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the almost unbearable soreness is relieved.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics—so splendid that thousands of bottles are sold annually.

Moone's Emerald Oil is sold by W. J. McCutcheon and all druggists. Satisfaction or money back.
