Sympathetic Understanding on Part of Public Asked-Are Doing Good Job

Speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon Wednesday, Capt. Nancy Hewett, pleasing young commanding officer of Canadian Women's Army Corps at Prince Rupert, appealed to the civilians of Prince Rupert to back up her girls and do what they could to help them along. The girls in uniform would naturally be conspicuous for a time. Even she herself felt self-conscious on occasion.

Capt. Hewett said that it was not an easy job for the girls of the C.W.A.C. who came to Prince Rupert which, incidentally, was the first defence area in Canada in which they had been placed. Ordinary girls, from ordinary Job's Daughters, June 25. The speaker told how C.W.A. had first been organized in 1941 by Matron in Chief Elizabeth Smillie. They were actually an integral part of the Canadian Army and not an auxiliary service. Women between 18 and 50 of Category C and upward and without dependents were eligible. While there was a basic training course which included physical training, gas, military law, administration, etc., the army work of the girls was largely specialized to that for which each one was best fitted. The plan was as far as possible to keep the girls in the districts to which they belonged although naturally this could not be done in all cases.

Capt. Hewitt's talk was of much interest to the Gyros and guests and suitable acknowledgement was voiced by President W. J. Scott who was in the chair. Other guests included Lieut. Bayfield, second in command of the C.W.A.C.'s here, William Perry of Vancouver, Ralph K. Farris and Capt. John

W. F. Stone reported arrangements complete for the annual Gyro picnic to be held Sunday aboard Dr. R. G. Large's power cruiser Soogwilis to picnic Bay. Next week's speaker at the Gyro Club will be George Cameron, Vancouver barrister and Grand Master of the Loyal Orange Lodge for British Collumbia, who, incidentally, was Conservative candidate for Skeena in the last federal elec-
