Effect of American Price Ceiling is To Increase Halibut Landings Here — Sockeye Catch is Still Light

The effect of the United States Office of Price Administration halibut price ceiling order equalizing the prices at Seattle and Prince Rupert has been to boost the volume of fish landed at Prince Rupert during the past week to almost one million pounds from American vessels. The boats landed at Prince Rupert, it is believed, because they would have found it un- aggregate of both American and profitable to take their catches Canadian fish for the week up the additional five hundred to 1,064,500 pounds. For the 1943 miles to Seattle with no differ- season up to and including yesential provided to compensate terday the grand aggregate was for the extra long haul from 8,845,400 pounds as compared the fishing banks. The actual with 9,738,019 pounds at a cor-total of American halibut land- responding date last year. The ed at Prince Rupert during the American total for this year had week was 903,500 pounds which, reached 4,781,700 pounds in comadded to 161,000 pounds from parison with 6,377,800 pounds a Canadian boats, brought the year ago while the Canadian aggregate was 4,063,700 pounds compared with 3,360,219 pounds. SPECIAL OFFERS With a few exceptions the In New and Used American selling price of 17.5c and 16c was maintained throughout the week. Canadian fish for export fresh was paid 18.2c and 7c, the difference being due to exchange between American and Canadian funds.

gill netting were none too favorable during the past week on the Skeena and Naas Rivers and catches continued relatively light. So far most of the fish is being caught in outside waters, the run in the Skeena River itself being negligible to date. There is by no means any capacity supply for the canneries as yet although all plants are
