

Two Canadian soldiers, who had spent some three years in England before they began the current campaign in Italy, gloat over the collection of hen fruit and Italian bread intended to have for their next meal in Italy. They are Pte. Varty, Innisfail, Alta., and Pte. George Jackson, Maxville, Ont.

One Way to Win Rooms And Influence Landlords

...from a fighting father, marks on their wallpaper than where in the Pacific, to his about the crimes of Hitler.

"I'm Not a Hero" Don't, don't, don't ever cry. You are only two—but the people in the next apartment might not understand that and complain to the landlord that they can't put up with living next door to a child.

And above all, don't try to go trading on your old man's reputation. I'm not a hero—and if you expect landlords to think I am and so be proud to rent your Mother a place where the two of you can live until I come back, you'll be disappointed.

You're on your own, son. There is nothing I can do for you until this war is over. I'm sorry. I thought folks might help your Mother and you out a little. But I guess I was wrong. With all my love.

—YOUR DAD.

Labor Progressive Party Here Is Active—To Take Part in Elections

Applications of eighty new members were received and accepted at a meeting of the local Labor Progressive Party Monday night. Bruce Mickleburgh gave a speech of welcome to the new members, some of whom signed on for Marxist study groups while others joined active committees.

The party is preparing to take part in all elections and the extent to which candidates will be run depends upon how far the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation is prepared to go in the establishment of unity in action.

Monthly reports of heads of committees—Mrs. Harold Ponder, social; Phillip Denny, membership; and George Nelson, industrial—indicated much activity and steady growth. Open forums, with prominent speakers, are to be held.

Nazi Winter Line Is Set Up

RETREATING NAZIS LEAVE NAPLES HARBOR IN RUINS

Naples harbor—one of the most important in Italy—is a clutter of sunken ships and tangled harbor fixtures, destruction wrought by the retreating Germans. An Allied soldier, who marched in with the victorious Fifth Army, is accompanied by a neapolitan policeman on tour of the harbor, which will be speedily put back into condition by Allied engineers.

Another Attempt Being Made to Halt Allies in Their Battle Northward

In Spite of Bad Weather and Stiffened Resistance, However, Germans are Still Forced to Fall Back.

ALGIERS, Nov. 10 (CP)—The German Command, using Italian labor, has erected a new winter line across Italy directly in front of present positions of the Allies, it was disclosed yesterday, and is pouring in reinforcements in the greatest effort to date to stem the Allied drive northward. Even as the line was disclosed, the British Eighth Army advanced five miles to the area of the mouth of the Sangro River at the eastern anchor of the new line. This was accomplished in spite of increased enemy resistance and extremely unfavorable weather. On the west coast the advance of the Fifth Army is also being hampered by the same conditions.

Invasion Coast Is Evacuated MADRID, Nov. 10 (CP)—The German command in southwestern France has ordered the evacuation of the entire civilian population between the Spanish border and Bordeaux within a strip along the Atlantic coast from ten to fifteen miles wide which would be ideal for an invasion, it was learned last night.

AMBULANCE FUND IS MEETING FAVOR REAL, Nov. 10—Employees of the Canadian National Railways and affiliated companies in the Fifth Victory Loan topped their record subscription of the Fourth Loan by more than a million and a half dollars according to D. C. Grant, vice-president of finance and accounting, who today presented a statement covering the period of the campaign to R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president.

Mr. Grant reported that 78,424 individuals employed in the railway organization, Trans-Canada Airlines and National Railways Munitions Ltd. had subscribed for a total of $3,411,100. This sum is $1,586,100, or over 23 percent, in excess of the final amount of $6,825,000 achieved in the Fourth Victory Loan campaign. In addition to the individual purchase by the workers the company made purchases to a total of $18,031,950, thus bringing the grand total of Canadian National system employee and management contributions to the Fifth Victory Loan to $26,443,050. The company subscriptions included $1,050,000 from the railway employees pension fund and $140,000 from the employees pension fund of Trans-Canada Airlines.

WINNING SEA WAR

Allies Sink More U-boats Than Merchant Ships Lost

LONDON, Nov. 10 (CP)—The Allies sank nearly five u-boats weekly during the last three months and went further ahead of the undersea raiders by holding merchant shipping losses below that figure, the British and United States governments announced yesterday. Approximately sixty Nazi submarines were sent to the bottom in that period with many more probably sunk.

October was the second lowest month of the year for Allied ship losses at the hands of u-boats. While sixty German submarines are known to have been sunk during August, September and October, the losses for the previous quarter were placed at ninety.

Is Assailed By Soldiers

A well known local citizen, while going home at dusk about 6:15 Monday evening, was struck by two or three soldiers who were, evidently, under influence of liquor to some extent. He was struck over the eye with what he believed might have been a rock in the hand of one. He was temporarily stunned. By the time he had recovered, the assailants had made off.

The citizen reports that, as he was being struck, one of the soldiers said: "G— he's not the man." He was not able to identify his assailants except that they were soldiers.

Noted Naturalist Is Visiting City

Dan McCowan Sees Much of Beauty and Interest in Prince Rupert

An interesting visitor in the city is Dan McCowan, noted Canadian naturalist, who is now identified with the Young Men's Christian Association war services organization as a lecturer on natural history. After having been across the continent from Labrador this far visiting and entertaining the troops, Mr. McCowan is now here for a couple of weeks and has commenced his visits to local posts.

Mr. McCowan has already observed many interesting things in natural history here—birds, animals, insects, marine creatures and plant life. He notices with delight numerous things that to local residents are so commonplace that they have long since become uninteresting. Formerly with the Canadian Pacific Railway publicity department and natural history commentator on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network, Mr. McCowan says he finds Prince Rupert a very delightful place—much and unfairly maligned.
