Warmer Weather
 Now Needed in Bulkley Valley

SMITHERS, June 3—The Bulkley Valley has not yet experienced any summery weather to speak of. Cold and showery weather has prevailed all through the spring and, while the grass appears to be growing very well, the other crops have not been greatly encouraged by this brand of weather.

There is now a lot of moisture in the ground, sufficient perhaps to guarantee a good hay crop already, but warm weather is now needed to bring all crops along rapidly.

Anthracite reserves at Shant are estimated at more than 500, 000,000,000 tons, half the coal in China.
