IDENTIFYING OF STREETS
 Chamber of Commerce Asking City
 To Look Into Matter of Clearer Designation

Placing of signs on city streets and numbers on houses where they are missing is being sought by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce which, at Monday's meeting, decided to take the matter up with the city authorities. The matter was brought up by John Bulger who referred to the present difficulty for strangers finding their way about through there being no signs to designate many of the streets. The President remarked facetiously that it might be as well to have the streets marked before they were completely destroyed by the rough usage which they were receiving. There was general agreement on the desirability of clearer designation of the streets. As for the house numbers, it was pointed out that the numbers were available at the City Hall for the asking. Theo Collart also put forward the proposal that streets of the city might be numbered instead of named as were the avenues but this idea was not approved, it being felt that it would be too large an undertaking, involving a number of complications.

POWER DEAL DISCUSSION

Hart and Pattullo Write to Chamber of Commerce Regarding B.C. Electric
 With letters from Premier John Hart and T. D. Pattullo, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert, on the subject on hand, the matter of the provincial government's stand on the matter of financing the cities of Vancouver and Victoria in connection with the proposed taking over of the British Columbia Electric Co. was again discussed at Monday's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. The question had first been brought up a month previous when exception was taken at the provincial government moving to finance such an undertaking as it would involve the rest of the province financially in the support of purely local projects.

The stand of Premier Hart on the matter was made clear enough. He intimated that the municipalities of Vancouver were giving consideration to the proposal. It was not the intention of the provincial government to go into the retail power business. Nor was the government prepared to take over and operate the power systems or distribute power. However, if these municipalities desired to take over these utilities, the government would give consideration to any proposals they had to make. Assistance might be given in connection with financing. The government might take over generating plants.

Mr. Pattullo, in his letter, said the whole question was still very much in the embryonic stage. However, he did not like the method of approach. At the suggestion of Theo Collart it was decided to have the finance committee of the Chamber pursue the matter further. It was suggested that an interview be held with Mr. Pattullo when he visits Prince Rupert next month.

Wartime Prices Board Cleared

No Ruling Whereby Fainting Woman on Street Could Not Get Cup of Coffee

There is no regulation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board which prohibits the supplying of meals at the premises, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was advised Monday in a report following a complaint made recently that a restaurant had, on that pretext, refused to supply a cup of coffee for a woman who had fainted on the street and was taken into a nearby store. The proprietor of the restaurant had expressed regret over the incident.

CREDIT FOR AIR TRAVEL

New Card System is Inaugurated by TransCanada
 WINNIPEG, May 5—TransCanada Air Lines has received authority to issue its own travel cards, by means of which passengers may receive credit and discounts, it was announced today by W. J. Dalby, traffic manager. TransCanada Air Lines has been honoring travel cards of 16 United States air lines. Holders of air travel cards will be entitled to a discount of 15 per cent on published one-way fares over T.C.A. routes in Canada. In the United States, discounts have been suspended for the duration of the war, but credit and other conveniences will be available to Canadians travelling on any of the 16 other air lines in the plan, Mr. Dalby said.

Air travel cards will be issued to officers, employees and representatives designated by subscribing companies and to individuals and members of their immediate families. When credit is approved, the subscriber will make a deposit with TransCanada, against which the cost of tickets or excess baggage will be charged. The plan may be cancelled on eight days' notice by either party.

Playgrounds Discussion

Junior Chamber Interested Finding Some Venue for Recreation of Public Generally

The possibility of local citizens obtaining access to sports grounds of the city which seemed to be a very well in control of the city authorities was mentioned last night's meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce, the city being brought up by Rev. MacSween. The discussion revolved down to the status of the Ball Park at the corner of Avenue and McBride Street, and the Gyro Club but efforts being made to have the municipalities make repairs to the age which they had done to President Robert Parker felt the Junior Chamber might be to be of help in getting this back in use as a field for the era's public.
