Getting Out of the Fight . . .
 Very soon now it appears reasonable to assume that Italy will be out of the war — officially if not actually—on the terms of unconditional surrender to the Allies. What resistance to the Allies that may be maintained on Italian soil will be what Adolf Hitler deems necessary for German defence. Whatever the outcome of the peace negotiations, Italy's position cannot be a very happy one. She will be fortunate if she does not become the battleground of a war for which her people never had any liking—into which, like dupes, they were led by the braggart jackal Mussolini and from which they are now trying to extricate themselves as best they can.

Italy today faces a prospect as dismal as that of unhappy France only she has been more completely dishonored, has been wholly shorn of her colonial empire and now possesses neither the wherewithal or the will to carry on a fight of liberation. Utterly helpless and deserted, she must abjectly call for help and mercy from those whom the treacherous Il Duce chose to stab in the back just three years ago this summer.

Feeding on Promises . . .

The following from the Prince George Citizen may be considered applicable to Prince Rupert as well as to the interior town:

"Considerable has been heard of Ottawa's attempt to give everyone in Canada a fair share of available consumer goods. These announcements have been good for the people's morale, but the poor merchant and wholesaler have had their difficulties increased. While the quotas have been increased on paper the additional supplies are not available.

"The gesture of increasing quotas is like that which has existed in the building industry. While you might be given a permit to build, the permit carried no priority on building materials, with the result that the would-be home owner remained stymied.

"Foodstuffs are no more plentiful and no easier to get here today than they were prior to last month when Ottawa announced a 100 per cent increase for centres between McBride and Prince Rupert.

"As one merchant put it, 'we can't get any quantity of the things that are not rationed, but we can obtain any amount of commodities that are rationed—providing we have the coupons.'

"It is quite apparent the food situation in central B.C. must continue to absorb the active interest of all Boards of Trade, who in turn must continue to bear down on food authorities at Ottawa.

"Promises and empty gestures — even from Ottawa—do not nourish bodies."

Help of Newspapers . . .

People today want all the news, all the facts, all the details they can get, to help them understand the events that are reshaping the world, to help them do their part in winning the war. That's why they're reaching so eagerly for their newspapers these days, and reading them more thoroughly than ever before. They know that nowhere else can they satisfy their hunger for news that's full and clear and graphic. And nowhere else can they get so quickly and completely the wartime regulations and instructions they must have to guide them in their homefront tasks. This intensified interest in both the news and the advertisements in today's newspapers, attested again and again by exhaustive scientific studies, is what makes newspapers so effective a medium for the informative and helpful messages of advertisers.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.
 By DOROTHY GARBUTT
 The Hostess

After tonight there are no more dances on the calendar for this month so I would like to thank the ladies of the Queen Mary Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, who took over the chaperone duties for July. Next month, August, the ladies of the Orange Lodge will act as Y.W.C.A. chaperones. I am greatly indebted to all these good ladies of Rupert who give up their evenings to this work. I know those in charge of the regimental dances rely on these ladies.

Junior hostesses and chaperones will meet tonight, Thursday, for the Highway Camp anniversary dance and supper.

How about some more rooms for the Navy bandsmen? They aren't all accommodated yet—about a dozen more to fix up. The Rooms Registry is feeling a little better today than you. It just about passed out last week and I was making all arrangements for the wake when I noticed a slight flutter of the pulse yesterday and today it was able to sit up and take nourishment. But nourishment, in the form of rooms and more rooms, is what it needs.

There are a great many new books in our library recently—whether donated anonymously or through the good offices of the local L.O.D.E. chapters—I don't know. But the selection is excellent and our service people should have no lack of reading matter.

Funny that a small world it is after all. Corporal Bert Graham of the R.C.A.S.C. and myself have discovered mutual friends in a village in Scotland called, of all things, Auchter-

NEW WAR STYLES

British Working Girl Is Now Dressed Better and at Lower Cost

By BARBARA WACE
 Associated Press Writer
 LONDON, July 29 (C)—The war has had one striking effect on women's fashions in Britain. The lower bracket wage groups are becoming slowly and surely better dressed. Their more prosperous compatriots can buy much less than they did before rationing started because their purchases are limited. Slowly but surely the good clothes they had when rationing started in 1941 are showing signs of wear and tear. And they cannot replace them garment for garment, for they have no more coupons than their poorer sisters, even though they can spend more money on what they do buy.

A two-piece dress and short jacket would take 21 coupons, so to buy it a woman would have to spend all her four-month period's stock. And what would she do for stockings and underwear?

Suits Popular
 Suits are becoming more and more popular, for the clever woman realizes that she can make several outfits from one good suit by ringing the changes with blouses and sweaters. But a tailored wool suit would take 18 coupons and that leaves only two extras, which will buy order. In spite of Ronnie Mason's dire predictions I did win at bingo last Friday night. Ronnie won't even sit with me at the table when we are playing. He says I bring him bad luck. Those who weren't superstitious got a nice package of cigarettes out of my winnings. Just off to have a cup of coffee with Captain MacDonald, how I do get around.

neither a pair of full fashioned silk stockings, which takes three coupons, nor a pair of shoes, which takes five.

But the Board of Trade has done a good job. "Utility" clothes, made from government controlled material are excellent. Two thousand manufacturers have been designated to make utility clothes, being guaranteed regular supplies of materials.

Cheap clothes in North America have always been smart, well-cut and plentiful. Any little government clerk in Ottawa or Washington could turn herself out in inexpensive clothes. They might not last very long, but she could get by in them at the smartest restaurant for a special date.

Queen's Designer
 Before the war, the English girl with a small salary usually had to be content with dull clothes without cut or style. Now, by buying "Utility" she can get smart clothes at well within the limits of her pocket-book.

Norman Hartnell, who made the clothes worn by the Queen on her visit to Canada and the United States in 1938 is designing for Berkatek. A group of designers, including Molyneux, have undertaken to produce between them a number of models for utility manufacturers. The department stores are selling Molyneux and Hartnell "utility" models for about $10.

LETTERBOX

WES WE HAVE GUTS

Editor, Daily News:
 Your article "teaching the boys" (who are the "boys" by the way?) is a lot of "cackeyed hokum" (to use your own phrase (not the best language for a respectable paper)).

The "boys" are "wise" already and are not going to stand for any post-war relief such as followed the last war.

There is, for your information, a "theory of universal security for all" (to use your own terms again) as exemplified by our brave allies, the Soviet Union. This is no "hokum of dreamers" (your terms again) but can be with us, and shall be, a reality in post-war conditions.

And are you so ignorant as not to know that many in our time have had things worth-while "without working for them"? Those that have worked the hardest have too often reaped the least.

Now have "guts" enough to publish this
