Eighty at L.O.B.A. Christmas Tree

About 80 children and their parents attended the Christmas tree party held on Tuesday evening by the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association in the Oddfellows' Hall where, compliant to custom, Santa Claus appeared to climax the program.

The community singing of Christmas carols was a greatly enjoyed part of the program which was rounded off by piano solos by Betty Wide, Margaret Wide, and Lorna Howe, and a recitation by Vernon Healy.

Doffing his khaki identity for the evening, Regimental Sergeant Major Broughton played the role of Santa Claus with openhanded joviality, distributing gifts and candy for all.

Mrs. Fred Barber headed the committee in charge of the party which included Mrs. J. Carr. Mrs. J. Comer. Mrs. Harold Johnson, Dorothy Evans, Mrs. Henry Smith jr. and Mrs. W. Richards.

Goodwill To Men

By WINIFRED O. BRASS

So still the night and dark, no moonlit splendor Lightens a world or weariness and pain, Yet, as of yore, its message, sweet and tender, Thrills through the heart at Christmastide again.

Those who have known the joy of loved ones near them, Remembering days when life was glad and gay; Though the dear presence can no longer cheer them, Love can but draw them closer on this Day.

Who, with the sword unsheathed, shall shape and fashion This world anew in flaming land afar; That Truth may live and Freedom and Compassion, They follow, as the Kings of old, their Star.

Out of the season with its glorious meaning New courage flows to quicken a rebirth Of Faith to bridge the dark days intervening, Of Hope till peace shall dawn o'er troubled earth.

O, mystic Night, whose wide and starry spaces Echo angelic choirs from sea to sea, Bear on swift wings to far and alien places Goodwill to men-at least, with Victory!
