Thief Steals

The week's record in vandalism was set on Saturday night when a thief, in a rude grab at beauty, despoiled the flower garden of Mrs. W. V. Tattersal, 137 Fifth Avenue East, by stealing ten prize gladiola blooms from it. The blooms were of outstanding size and color and were the pride of Mrs. Tattersal and her neighbors.

Mrs. Tattersal, an esteemed her fine flowers and felt rewarded by their magnificent blooming. They caught the eye of every street passer and yesterday Mrs. Tattersal intended to have them photographed. But yesterday they were not in her garden to be photographed. They were more likely in a vase in some thoughtless person's and their comparison to home, already drooping.

Germany Clamps Down Dictatorship in Face of Growing Patriotic Revolt

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 30 (P) -Germany clamped a military dictatorship over Denmark yesterday, but their effort to crush the Danes met violent resistance as Danish naval forces scuttled most of their fleet in a battle with Nazi troops.

Forty-five ships were scuttled as the battle raged in the Copenhagen naval yard, with the Nazis storming vainly in an effort to prevent their destruction, said one Danish witness who escaped to Sweden. Nine

Fighting was also reported in the Copenhagen barracks between the Germans and the Royal Guard.
