Pay-As-You-Earn Taxes . . .

Interest is growing rapidly in proposals for putting the income tax system of both Canada and the United States on a pay-as-your-earn basis. Generally this is re- rather bad-pun on Sergeant New York at Toronto. ferred to as the "Ruml plan" because it seems to have Cleaver Wilson's name wasn't so sunday-Montreal at Boston, To- B Lew originated or at least developed to a very considerable, clever as I thought it was. The pay-as-you-earn plan or pay-as-you-go plan, offing and coming up to give you whichever you like to call it, simply means paying our in-boys some first rate entertaincome taxes on a current basis. Unfortunately, many people are under the impression that that system is already ple are under the impression that that system is already ent. in vogue. It most certainly is not. We began last September 1 to pay income tax on a weekly deduction from payroll basis but this tax was on the income for the calendar year 1942 and payroll deduction will be continued that has got into our blood. We have to count on income we have not yet earned to pay debts we have already contracted.

A revision of the system that would in effect wipe aren't being hard done by. out all arréars and be a real pay-as-you-earn plan would be of great benefit to workers whose income may fluctuate quickly and sharply as a result of periods of illness or unemployment. In other words, the pay-as-you-earn plan would be a real help to those who need it most. While auxiliary services in Canada, Col- ed the high single of 316. there are difficulties to be overcome, there is no doubt onel Deacon. Company's coming. the plan is entirely practical and it is encouraging to note that it is now receiving the serious consideration of both the Canadian and the United States governments.

Cashing Checks . . .

Local industrial workers are rightfully complaining at the inconvenience caused through lack of facilities to get their pay checks cashed. Some business places continue to cash such checks. Others make it a rule not to, do so.

A responsibility or duty in the matter of doing something about providing the service of making the necessary cash available must rest somewhere. One suggestion is that the employers should by some means pay straight ford McCullagh was uanimously elago. in cash. Another is that special banking hours might be arranged for the convenience of recipients of such checks.

There is a dissatisfaction existing which has justification and which there should be some means of remedying before it hampers the war effort.

New School Buildings . . .

The city appears to be up against the early necessity of doing something about providing additional school accommodation here. Where the wherewithal is to come from is the first difficulty with the obtaining of the necessary material the next one, even should the funds become available.

It is a difficult problem but one that will have to be met unless children in Prince Rupert are to go uneducated. And that such a pass as that should come seems hardly reasonable.

Fancy construction plans are discussed at times but we might as well forget them for the present. We shall have to first be satisfied with putting to the best and utmost use the facilities now existing and, for the balance, getting along with the very simplest minimum. Possibly, after the war is over and things settle down to a more permanent and definable basis, something enduring may be undertaken.

TOJO TAKES A BOW

Premier Tojo, the "dagger," bows before Emperor Hirohito upon receiving orders which he himself most likely dictated. Jojo is now virtual boss of Japan but, in public ceremonies at least, accords his emperor the traditional courtesies. Hirohito, you may have noticed, seems to be acquiring the obesity now marking his Axis partners Hitler and Mussolini. Tojo in opening the Japanese Diet, predicted a "long hard" road for Japan to victory.
