For Protection of Homes . . .

The intensification of global warfare as it affects Prince Rupert is seen in statements today dealing with the need for more men in both the local reserve unit and the civilian protection (A.R.P.) organization.

The reserve unit has been called upon to assume a larger responsibility in the local defence scheme. This is in line with announcements made during the past few days by both Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain and Defence Minister J. L. Ralston of Canada that more of the active or first line army forces are to be sent abroad to carry the fight to the enemy, leaving home defence more to the care of the civilian reserves.

The A.R.P. suggests that its ranks are not up to strength because the reserve has taken some of its men and also through apathy on the part of the public and failure to realize the importance of the civilian protection function.

We have advised so often on the essentiality of the branches of the services. reserve and civilian protection organizations that it almost seems unduly laboring the point to repeat it. Meantime, it is almost getting to the point of dereliction of duty and responsibility if any man who is at all able to do so not to challenge the navy. They roads and streets must be kept continues to fail.

If there are any pianists in the forces who are willing to help the King's Men, the Prince Rupert area orchestra which plays for us each Wednesday dance night, we'd be only too glad to hear from them. It would only be for a few nights until Cliff Macaree, the regular pianist, returns. As good as the P.A. system may be, it's still "canned music" and doen't give that human atmosphere to dance that a dance band does. So come on chums, help us out! LOCAL PEOPLE URGED TO SELF PROTECTION

May 19th, 1943

Editor, Daily News:

From time to time in your editorials reference is drawn to the possibility and probability of attack by enemy forces on the City of Prince Rupert and area adjacent thereto.

The question has been discussed by the executive of the Civilian Protection Committee of the A.R. P. and it was agreed that nothing could be done until we had received the views of the military authorities and, if possible request a statement from them regarding the possibility of evacuation of the civil population in case of emergency or hostile action in this area. The following is an excerpt from a statement under the signature of the officer commanding Prince Rupert Defences:

"If the enemy decides to attack helps those who help themselves. for the evacuation of the civilian Yesterday afternoon we had a population before the attack oc-

What we are trying to do is to sell yourself insurance for your children and homes. If you want cheap self insurance—do nothing. The cost eventually may be extremely high. If you want self-insurance the cost is low, the amount of coverage depends on you alone and may come cheap in the final analysis, depending upon the time and thought you give to your own protection.

We who have given some study to the question cannot state definitely what will or will not occur but we feel it is our duty to place before you our view on the questions above outlined and hope that your good common sense will force you

Every family, home, business or other establishment should be trained to know what to do and how to do it with the least amount of fuss or flurry when and if an emergency or hostile action does occur. If you protect yourself, you protect your neighbor. If your neighbor protects himself, he protects you. If we all do this together we have done all that is possible under the present known factors and, when trouble comes along, we will all be in a better position to take it. So be a good neighbor and-
