F.B.I. Measures Saved Their Majesties On 1939 American Visit

LONDON UNAWARE

LONDON (CP)—Reports from Washington of a plot to assassinate the King and Queen during their 1939 United States tour was labelled "news" by government and Scotland Yard officials. "We have not heard anything about this," said a government official. "It is entirely news."

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)-The Federal Bureau of Investigation disclosed last night that two Germans -Fritz Weidemann, then German consul-general at San Francisco, and Herman Schwinn-discussed the assassination of King George and Queen Elizabeth during their visit to the United States in 1939. As a result, one of the greatest protective nets ever assembled in modern times was immediately thrown about the King and Queen on their trip to United States and Canada. These protective measures obviated any attempt being ever made to carry out the plot as no opportunity presented itself.
