CLAIM LIVES OF ISLAND SEAMEN

Carbon monoxide fumes from the engine of the mission boat for the deaths of two well known Queen Charlotte men who succumbed while the boat was towing a raft of logs near Massett had gone aground after the men had been overcome.

Victims of the fatal accident engine room. were Fred Bellis and James John Patrick Locker to tow a raft of logs from Port Clements to Massett when they were overcome by the deadly gas. Locker, who left the Western Hope in his own boat before the voyage was completed, told a coroner's election night. Following the jury that while he had been aboard the mission vessel he had Falls and Prince Rupert's Inbegun to feel sick, and that Bellis termediates, the Teen-Agers are Western Hope were responsible had begun to act strangely, pre- meeting in the auditorium of sumably from the effect of the the Civic Centre and the big exhaust gas.

Beautiful Display of Spring Wear Paraded from Capitol Theatre Stage

In an attractively arranged stage setting, a stunning display last night at the Capitol Theatre Mrs. Bess McBroom, Mrs. Jean ected the stage arrangement before an audience wnich freely demonstrated its appreciation of the show which will be repeated this evening. The apparel displayed came from the Sweet Sixteen and Fashion Footwear. Fourteen charming models effectively displayed a versatile array of fashions including lounging pajamas, afternoon and evening dresses, dressmaker and tailored suits, cloth and fur coats and ensembles, many of which were of breath-taking beauty in material and design. Accessories of headwear, gloves, bags and footwear were in smooth and telling harmony. Culminating feature of the show was a lovely bridal group with Evelyn Alexander as the demure bride in lovely snow white gown with double net skirt and jersey top and floor length
