Stiff Two-Party Fight Coming As Teen Town Awaits Elections

Party politics has reared its head in Teen Town. With elections of candidates for three key civic positions only nine days away, Teen Town voters find themselves divided into two camps, each pulling for their own candidates for Mayor, City Clerk and Police Chief.

The lines were clearly formed at the close of the nomination Rosaline Thain, John Currie and period last night.

Between now and October 12, be appointed later. election day, the two parties will conduct a campaign which junior political observers anticipate will set a precedent on the Teen Town political front for years to come.
