for Cotton

WAR ate up a lot of cotton-in military clothing, tents, tarpaulins, a thousand war uses-millions of yards of fabric, millions of pounds of yarn.

And, of course, war needs had to be served

Now that the war is over, it's the civilian market that's hungry for cotton-cotton for sheets and shirts, for dresses and underwear and for dozens of industrial uses.

The gap between supply and demand is world-wide. In Canada, though our mills are doing their utmost, it will take months for the cotton industry to catch up.

WE shall continue to distribute our production on a quota basis, playing no favourites.

Allies to Reward Wartime Inventors

LONDON (P) - A Royal Commission is being set up to decide what awards shall be given to inventors for use during the war of their "inventions, designs, drawings or processes" by British and Allied governments.

Later the commission will arrange the procedure for submitting claims. Government employees will not be excluded from compensation for inventions but their contributions will be judged on the same footing as outside work.

American royalty rights on inventions will also be taken into account.

INDIAN DELICACY The porcupine's flesh is edible and was considered a delicacy
