Final Halibut Catches Being Landed —Difficulty in Getting Materials
Holds Up Floats Work

Their hulls filled with their final catches of the season, a dozen halibut boats poured more than half a million pounds of halibut into the Prince Rupert fish houses during the week ending Friday. The week's total raises to 13,600,500 pounds the total halibut sold in Prince Rupert this season. Arriving here district, C. F. P. Faulkner, assistant district engineer from New Westminster, spoke of the difficulty of getting deliveries of materials, a condition which was persistently delaying the carrying out of projects. For instance he mentioned the new fishermen's floats at Fairview Bay where the contractors, John Currie & Son, are awaiting the delivery of two lineal miles of float logs to save nothing of another lineal mile for the breakwater. Another mile-and-a-half of float logs will be required for the overhaul of the fishermen's floats to the east of the drydock here, tenders for which are to be called soon.

When the handsome Campbell, Church charter yacht Aquilo of Seattle was in port Thursday afternoon in the midst of the annual Port Day proceedings here she had on board a party including Mrs. James Oliver Curwood, widow of the famous novelist, who wrote many stories of the north and who himself used to visit Prince Rupert. Mrs. Curwood makes her home in California. The Aquilo, whose master is Capt. Arthur McLennan, was southbound from Alaska, leaving Friday morning in continuation of her voyage.

While in the city this week in the course of one of his official tours on business in connection with a rather extensive program of federal public works having to do with wharves and floats in various parts of the

The Vancouver boat Sea Ranger was reported to have sold 50,000 pounds at Sitka yesterday, getting the American price. Although Canadian boats selling at American ports must pay a cent a pound duty, the difference in American and Canadian prices make it worthwhile.

The local ration board in Prince Rupert is completing preparations for the distribution of Ration Book No. 6, which will take place September 11, 12 and 13 possibly from the old military post office on Third Avenue.

Directions for getting the new book are simple.

1. The green R4-191 card at the back of the present ration book must be properly filled out in ink, with the information printed except for the signature to the declaration at the bottom of the card.

2. The card should then be left in the book and the book presented at the distribution centre. The book will be returned, together with a new Ration Book 6.

3. The address to be given on the card means the usual address of the bookholder. If the applicant is on vacation at the time of distribution, he may go to any distribution point to get his book, but must give his regular address on the card.

Persons who do not pick up their books while the distribution centre is open will not be able to obtain a new book until after September 29. Latecomers will find themselves unable to use two meat coupons, two butter and five sugar-preserves coupons which become valid on September 19 and 26, as it will not be possible for them to obtain new books until after these dates.

Ten thousand ration books have arrived in the city and are in the custody of Mrs. J. A. Teng, local ration officer. This, it is expected, will amply meet local requirements.

THIS AND THAT

"Lucy—who is this man?"

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When persons sitting behind one at the theatre persist in talking, would it be proper to ask them to stop?

A. Yes, but try to do it in a quiet and pleasant way. If they resent the request and do not stop, speak to an usher about it.

Q. Is it all right for a woman to refer to her husband as "Hubby"?

A. No. While it is a familiar colloquialism, some people consider it vulgar and it is better to avoid it.

Q. At what hour should one go to a reception?

A. At any time desired between the hours specified on the invitation.
