Color schemes were designed by an interior decorator to present a pleasing appearance. The side-walls from windows to baggage racks are powder blue and the lower walls, from the floor to the lower edge of the windows are blue-gray. Above the racks the walls and ceilings are cream-yellow. The carpets are deep blue. The upholstered chairs are of a dull shade of rose-clay, with side panels picking up the blue of the carpets and the arms rests of blue-gray leather.

CO-OP LOOKS FOR MARKETS

Expansion Possibilities Are Surveyed by Terrace Organization

TERRACE, Terrace Co-operative Association held a meeting Tuesday in the Oddfellows' Hall Sympathetic friends gathered with Fred Thomas in the chair n St. Matthews Anglican Church and Floyd Frank acting as sec-Mr. Parker suffered a stroke and on Wednesday afternoon to at- retary. The hall was well filled roll-top covers which slide down was taken last week to hospital tend the funeral of the baby with members and people interested in the Co-operative idea.

Statement of business done

Several important subjects were dealt with by Chairman Thomas and several others who joined in discussions on the prospects of local producers supplying other markets besides the local one which is limited in its scope. A committee was appointed to make a survey of local prospects in poultry products, fruits, dairy products, vegetables and roots, honey and both cut flowers and plants for setting out. It was felt that the condiions in and around Terrace warranted efforts to get into the markets in these lines.

An interesting item on the agenda was the offer on advantageous terms of one of the local sawmills. A committee was named to look into this as it was felt it might eventually prove to be a great boon to the locality. At present prices local farmers are finding it difficult to keep their buildings and fences in proper shape.
