PAPER COMPANIES SAID TO BE INTERESTED IN TELKWA COAL

According to reports current here, Powell River and Pacific Mills paper manufacturing companies are negotiating to take over two important coal mining properties—Bulkley Valley Collieries and Telcoal Colliery-in the central interior, some 250 miles east of Prince Rupert, near the northern line of the Canadian National Railways. Immediate reason for the companies negotiating for these coal fields, it is said, is because their fuel oil contracts were recently cancelled so they are considering using coal instead.

Coal, it is said here, would be mined at the rate of five hundred tons a day and shipped from Telkwa to Prince Rupert by rail for transfer to ship or scow. * It would make a much larger and busier town of Telkwa and would involve installation of bunkering facilities at Prince Rupert. The properties concerned are located about twelve miles south of the railway line. Bulkley Valley has been operated for many years by Frank Dockrill. Telcoal has also produced on a smaller and less steady scale.
