BASKETBALL POT SHOTS

A few words are necessary to clarify the situation regarding the sudden changes in the plans for the Ketchikan-Prince Rupert basketball series this weekend and here is the story in full:

After Ketchikan had been contacted and they expressed their willingness to come March 8 and 9, a telegram was sent to New Metlakatla inviting them down for the same dates so that a tournament could be planned well in advance of the dates mentioned. At that time the New Metlakatla team could not see their way clear due to other commitments so that matter was dropped. Just yesterday morning word came through that the New Metlakatla team could make it here Friday and Saturday, so the show must go on.

On Friday the Intermediate All-Stars will meet the New Metlakatla boys and the Senior All-Stars will meet Ketchikan, these two games to be repeated Saturday night. The winners of the Intermediate vs. Metlakatla and Seniors vs. Ketchikan games will then play off on Sunday afternoon for the championship of the tournament. It is also planned to have the losers meet in each case but, should Ketchikan lose and not make the final, they will probably leave for home early Sunday in order to have their boys back to their jobs for Monday morning.

This is undoubtedly going to be the greatest basketball show ever offered the fans here and the fact that the Intermediates, as a team, are being given the chance to show themselves in senior inter-town competition adds greatly to the attraction. The senior team intended to use no less than three of the intermediate boys on their lineup—namely Joe Davis, Boyo Gurvich and Mella Holkestad—but, since there was such criticism of the lack of opportunity afforded these three boys in the recent Coast Guard series, it is felt much better that they be given the chance to show themselves on their own.

One matter that is definitely bothering the promoters of this show is that of sufficient seating. When we look back to realize that a crowd of four or five hundred was considered very large in pre-war days, it is certainly gratifying to know that because there are only 700-odd reserved seats the seating committee is very concerned. Walter Johnston, captain of the Senior All-Stars, is in charge of the seating.

Bob Moxley, popular local lad who has taken part in nearly every line of sport since he attended public school, will carry the play-by-play broadcast to those of you who choose to stay by the fireside.

HOOP PLAY WAS CLOSE

Keen and Exciting Encounters in Intermediate League Last Night

High School 38; Co-ops 36.
Savoy 39; Macey's 34.
Watts & Nickerson 22; Junior High 9.

Booth Memorial High School defeated Co-operatives 38 to 36 in an excitingly close Intermediate League basketball game last night while Savoys took the measure of Macey's 39 to 34 in another match which was almost equally keenly contested. In the Junior League fixture, Watts & Nickerson had no difficulty in disposing of Junior High 22 to 9.

Co-ops led during the first half but, under continuous pounding by the students, dropped behind in the second. Centre Jimmy Forman, still hot after Saturday night, led the scoring by marking up 21 of his side's points. Viereck was tops for Co-op with ten points.

Macey's displayed some fine basketball but could not make their shots count and came out second best with Savoys. High man of the game was Joe Davis with fourteen, R. Holkestad of Macey's being second best with eleven.

Stellar player in the Junior League affair was Skog who counted ten and went on play his first Intermediate game, scoring six for Co-ops.

CLEARWATER, Florida — The Cleveland Indians and catcher Frank Hayes finally saw eye to eye yesterday on the terms of Hayes's 1946 contract. The backstop, who last year broke the major league mark of 217 consecutive games behind the plate, entered the fold. The only regular of last season's Indians not yet signed is Micky Rocco.
