food of such supreme flavor and tenderness that vegetables assumed a new importance in their diet. This, nutrionists tell us, is to be desired.

For garden-fresh vegetables food scarcity. Is that are not only delicious, but nutritious. Science has developed many new facts about the loss of vitamins when vegetables grow stale. It has long been known that the sugar content of sweet corn, peas and several others rapidly changes to starch after they are picked, with consequent loss of flavor.

Holding freshly picked peas in a warm room for 3 to 4 hours will materially toughen the skins and one to two-thirds of their original Vitamin C may be lost by vegetables in 24 hours at room temperature.

The quicker they are eaten, frozen or canned, after being harvested, the more delicious vegetables are. And the time is brief, indeed, before the keen edge of their flavor begins to grow dull.

Vegetables should be used as oon after picking as possible. Time is one of the elements that favor the home gardener-un-

Calgary Man Teaches Polishing Under Rehabilitation Plan

CALGARY, Alta (P) -F. M. Hoffman of Calgary has an uncooked vegetables on the table usual hobby—the cutting and in less than 15 minutes, and polishing of semi-precious stones, cooked vegetables in less than and many of them he fashioned 30 minutes from the time they into beautiful pieces of jewelry. Others he displays in showcases. That seems an extreme view. They are not mounted in set- earth."

Mr. Hoffman has the stones make harvesting a footrace. But on display in a basement room. authorities agree that, to be truly where he has a workshop. Agates "garden fresh" vegetables must predominate, but emeralds, opbe served within an hour or two als, jade, quartz and garnet crysof harvesting, so that to eat tals and tourmaline are also on them is an experience which few display. In seperate cases are except home gardeners who grow petrified wood specimens and fossils collected from many parts

One of the stones Mr. Hoffman values most highly is an agate which shows a perfectly-formed floral pattern in red and black square. Other agates give the illusion of sunset scenes; trees appear to be silhouetted in black FOR SALE-Baby buggy, good against orange sunset and re-BUY WAR SAVINGS STAMPS flected in wavy blue water. Those known as "iris agates" show a pectrum of color when catching the light. "Thunder eggs," properly known as geodes, are part of the collection. They contain agate of multiple shades and design when cut.

Mr. Hoffman started his hobby in 1938, his assets being an interest in minerals and one small grinder. Since then he has improvised four more machines. From the ceiling of his workshop are suspended dozens of buffers and metal polishers. wood and felt "laps," each used for a different process in finishing the stones.

The hobby has become a part of his life for Mr. Hoffman. He now is teaching the polishing the stones to several exservicemen under the government rehabilitation plan.

Most of his raw material is shipped in from the United States - agate from Montana, Oregon and Washington. Jade from Burma, opal from Australia and Mexico and tiger-eye from South Africa are also supplied when shipping is available: American mineralogists often exchange agates and semi-precious stones for fossils Mr. Hoff man has gathered from the beds of the Red, Elbow and St. Mary

BOYS START FIRE

Small boys were said by Fire

Chief H. T. Lock yesterday to have been responsible for starting a fire in an American army barracks hut - T94 - on Second Avenue Sunday afternoon. The fire, which began in a paint

out with only minor damage.

According to Chief Lock, the boys set fire to a quantity of paint and brushes in a locker in the building at Second Avenue near First Street. The smoke was noticed by a passerby who notified the fire department. "I could hardly say that the boys were playing. It looked more like deliberate mischief," Chief Lock commented. "It could have been serious fire." The boys were
