20 YEARS AGO

R. W. Hagen, editor of the Mining and Engineering Journal of B.C., declared that Prince Rupert should be the site of a smelter since it was the centre of an active mining area. He also suggested a metallurgical plant.

The Terrace and District Fall Fair Association's sixth annual fall fair was an unqualified success. Weather conditions were splendid and there was a large assortment of exhibits.

Seven carloads of grain were reported to be at Jasper on their way to the terminal elevator at Prince Rupert. They were expected here within a few days.

WINNIPEGGER TAKES HIGH HONORS WITH HIS 1,300 POUND CATCH — Ald. William Scraha, of Winnipeg, also a member of the Manitoba legislature, showed tourists a thing or two when he harpooned the big white whale weighing 1,300 lbs. during a recent excursion to Churchill, Man. Scraha had an idea he'd like to ship the whale to Winnipeg as a birthday gift.

Chi Blackhawks Start Hockey Training

The Chicago Blackhawks of the National Hockey League and their farm team, the Kansas City Pla-Mors, champions of the United States League, started training at Regina, Sask., on Wednesday.

No fewer than 60 players faced Manager Johnny Gottselig, and Doc Romnes at the first leg limbering drill at the Queen City Gardens.

The members of the Hawks 1945-46 team on hand for the strenuous training grind are defence men John Mariucci, Eddie Wares, and Reg Hamilton, and forwards Doug and Max Bentley, Bill Mosienko, Red Hamill, George Gee, Pete Horeck, Alex Kaleta and Clint Smith.

The Bentley-Mosienko string led all the lines in the major organizations in point making in 1945-46 and the outstanding play of Max Bentley earned him the Hart Trophy, the League's annual award to the player voted by hockey writers as most valuable to his club.

Missing from the 1946-47

Hawks aggregation will be the veteran Mike Karakas who has bowed to the beckoning of Father Time, and George Aien, another time-tried but still highly efficient veteran who went to the champion Montreal Canadiens in exchange for Paul Bibeault who will be the Hawks' regular net minder the coming season. Don Grosso and Joe Cooper have been sold outright to the Boston Bruins and New York Rangers respectively.

The defence positions vacated by Allen and Cooper are expected to be battled for by big Leo Reise, rugged Ralph Natrass, Harry Dick and Jack Jackson, who were standouts last season as members of the Kansas City Pla-Mors. Others vying for rear guard posts are Lieutenant Aud Tuten, a former Hawk recently discharged from the U. S. Marines, and Bill Gadsby, a simon-pure husky who has been highly touted by the press of Alberta.

For the left-wing job, left open because of the sale of Grosso, the Hawks' boss will have three speedy Kansas City forwards battling for the position. They are Wingly Johnston, Andy Chakowski and Hank Blade. There will also be at least a dozen more aspiring amateur forwards and defence men picked by the Hawks' head scout, Tiny Thompson, battling for jobs on the two pro teams. The amateurs who look ready for pro ranks will fill in for the Kansas City players who will be selected by Gottselig for the 1945-47 Blackhawks team.

Molly Tyson, 20, of Temple University became the first woman ever to win the national midget outboard championship when she piloted her 50-pound speedboat to victory over a field of 80 at Chattanooga, Tenn., eight years ago. Her time on the 2½-mile course was 4.34½, an average speed of 32.813 miles an hour.

Eddie Goddellow, a member of two Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup teams, was named playing coach of the Red Wings by Manager Jack Adams six years ago. A converted centre, he starred for 10 years as a defenceman in the N.H.L. and was winner of the Hart trophy as the league's most valuable player the previous year.

Freddie Dawson, a Chicago lightweight with a winning streak of 27 fights, headed back to fistie oblivion when he was knocked out by Ike Williams of Trenton, N.J., in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round contest at Philadelphia two years ago. Williams went on to win the lightweight title.
