INDIA'S HUGE HYDRO PLANT

NEW DELHI — For the last nine months engineers units of the Indian Army have been making preliminary investigations on the river-controlled scheme, the Damodar Valley project which it is estimated will cost $65,000,000. The scheme is modelled to some extent on America's publicly-owned Tennessee Valley Authority, to control devastating floods, provide immense hydro-electric power and irrigate approximately 760,000 acres in the rice-growing province of Bengal.

Water supply for industrial and domestic purposes will be increased to 20 times the present supply. Hydro-electric installations will have a capacity of 200,000 kilowatts, supplemented by steam installations of 150,000 kilowatts.

Despite the shortage of engineers in India, the assistance of the army has enabled the government to proceed with the planning of the scheme much earlier, as it will probably take eight to ten years to complete it. The work undertaken by the army mainly consists of investigations and preliminary facilities for construction work.

The surveys of three dam sites are being done by railway survey companies. A field survey company is doing the reservoir surveys. The project will ultimately include seven dams altogether.

MODEL WAITERS

LONDON — German prisoners-of-war, replacing servicemen and women as dining-room helpers in the army, vary in their cooking styles but as waiters are "fast and silent, and do not forget pet fancies of mess members," officers report.

MONGREL "LION"

BRISBANE, Australia — An elusive "lion" which terrorized the Queensland district of Yengarie for several weeks has been shot and proved to be a strange cross between a Dingo, the Australian wild dog, a collie and a fox—at least that's the theory.

First Primate In Hundred Years To Visit Canada

The first occasion in one hundred years a primate of the Church of England, The Archbishop of Canterbury, is visiting Canada.

The Archbishop is making his trip over the Canadian National Railways and, in all, will travel some 2,500 miles on that system.

On leaving, His Grace was accompanied by Mrs. Fisher, Most Reverend Phillip Carrington, Archbishop of Quebec; Right Reverend George F. Kingston, Bishop of Nova Scotia; and Canon J. McLeod Campbell, secretary of the Missionary Council, from London, England.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is due to arrive in Quebec today, Montreal and Ottawa on August 28, Toronto on August 30, and Winnipeg on September 3. At Winnipeg, he will meet the clerical and lay representatives of all the dioceses in the Dominion and, on September 5, His Grace leaves Winnipeg for Philadelphia to attend the synod of the Episcopal Church of the United States.
