WONDER FLOWER BLOOMING

NEW DELHI, ©—Strobilanthes kunthianus, a remarkable plant which bursts into flower once in 12 years and covers the hillsides of South India with a carpet of blue, now is in full bloom. There are 46 species of Strobilanthes in South India and all seem to have different flowering periods, ranging from one year to 39 years.

SHE KNITS SOCKS FOR BING

Mrs. Lou Renaud, of Ottawa, considers herself a very privileged knitter, for she has just completed the last of eight pairs of finely knitted socks for that famous screen personality, Bing Crosby. "Lou," as she was known to the hundreds of staff and guests at Jasper Park Lodge where she worked this summer, met Bing while he was at Jasper during the filming of the latest Paramount movie "The Emperor Waltz." While buying wool in the specialty shop of the Lodge, she asked the singer, who was present, for his autographed photo, as she was an ardent Crosby fan. In return she promised, when finished, the pair of hand-knit socks she was carrying with her. Two days later she had her cherished photo and a personal note of thanks from Bing for the two pair of colorful socks she had sent, also enclosed was full payment for the socks.

Shortly after the actor returned to Hollywood, Mrs. Renaud thoughtfully sent two cards of matching mending wool to him with a note of admiration for his work and attitudes. Much to her surprise another personal note by airmail welcomed the wool and requested more socks if it was possible to supply them. So Lou happily turned to knitting and now the singer's wardrobe sports ten pairs of vari-colored Canadian hand-knit socks.

In the photograph "Lou" displays the socks with the Crosby photo autographed "To my friend Lou."

HALLOWE'EN

He left the pipe protruding from the window as he fled.

Windows in Postal Station "B" took a bad beating but those in adjoining business places were carefully boarded up yesterday afternoon, and escaped damage.

More confusing than amusing to the victims, was the brand of whimsy of a young man who hurled a tear-gas bomb into the crowded lobby of the Civic Centre during the Gyro Club Hoedown last night. Fumes from the bomb drew profuse tears from those in the lobby, and there were many red-rimmed eyes in evidence this morning. The joker was seen although not caught.

One Youth Was Hurt

One young man learned the hard way that it does not pay to throw rocks at street lights when there is a policeman lurking nearby. This particular youth missed the light on Third Avenue which he aimed at and dashed across a vacant lot near Second Street when hailed by a policeman. Running in the darkness he hit an obstruction and received a deep gash on his knee that required medical attention.

Downtown, the damage from the street appeared to be mostly the marking of display windows with soap and wax. Considering the alleged current soap shortage, it was a point of wonderment where all the soap came from.

However, a number of downtown business places had rear windows broken. Among them were MacKenzie's Furniture Store, Alex McRae, printer, and the Daily News. A distorted brand of juvenile heroics was displayed by the person who crept to the rear of the Daily News plant and tossed a pebble through a small window from the bushes.

An army jeep received unorthodox treatment while it was parked on Fraser Street. Vandals pushed it over an embankment into a hole in Totem Park. When the drivers appeared a short time later they commended the assistance of a group of youths nearby to put it back on the road again.

PIONEERS' HOME PROGRESS STEADY

But City Engineer Is Not Speculating as to When It Will Be Finished

Work on Prince Rupert's new Pioneers' Home is progressing steadily but, owing to the precarious situation regarding building materials no forecast as to when the building will be ready for occupancy is forthcoming from City Engineer E. A. Phillips.

"We have had difficulty in getting material and it is also likely that we will have trouble getting supplies necessary for finished work," he said. "I have no idea when it will be completed."

However, the work already done is of good quality, observations of a Daily News representative who visited the building Thursday indicated. The lumber going into the building is completely seasoned which is an advantage few buildings constructed at the present time can boast. Practically all the lumber is second-hand, coming from the interior of the exhibition building or from army buildings which have been demolished.

Mr. Phillips paid tribute to George Scott, building foreman, for the quality of the workmanship and for the progress that has been made under difficulties. Mr. Scott has a crew of about eight men working with him at present.

The frame of the building is up and the roof is on. The wiring and plumbing has been completed, as has much of the outside concrete and cement work, which is being done by John Brenner. The low-pitch, tar-and-gravel roof is also completed. Workmen Thursday were lining the rooms with plasterboard.

When completed, the building will be surfaced outside with cedar "shakes" and will present a modern and attractive appearance from its site above the harbor in Westview.

Citric acid for soft drinks, confectionery and medicine now is produced mainly by fermentation instead of from citrus fruits.

HOW CAN I ???

BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I relieve a child's sore throat?

A. Try applying a liniment of two parts of sweet oil mixed with one part of spirits of hartshorn.

Q. How can I preserve a new clothesline?

A. A new clothesline should be boiled for about 30 minutes before using it. This prevents stretching. It will not tangle as readily and will last much longer.

Q. How can I mend kid gloves?

A. Buttonhole around the edge of the tear before drawing together. Then over-sew the buttonhole together and the repair is substantial.

Q. How can I make a cockroach trap?

A. Fill a pie pan, or similar container, half full of sugar water. Place it on the floor and slant several sticks, each about three inches long, from the floor to the edge of the vessel. The roaches will crawl over and drown.
