Heil, Teen Town!

Prince Rupert's Teen Town has completed the preliminary organization formalities. Mayor, aldermen and police chief have been elected and the young folk appear to have made good choices. Anyway, the winners are to be congratulated. Now, like good civic policymakers, their job is to get down to organization of the various activities coming within the purview of a Teen Town.

The Teen Town function, as we understand it, is to promote activities not principally, and certainly not only, for entertainment and recreation but for self-improvement and education, to train the young people in the rudiments of good citizenship. Among these important rudiments are the ability to assign and accept responsibilities and to see they are carried out. In other words every Teen Town when he, or she accepts a job of work, no matter how large or trivial it might seem to be, should see that it is meticulously, expeditiously and thoroughly carried out. Otherwise, it would be better to admit lack of enterprise, ability or energy and leave the job alone. There will be plenty of work in Teen Town and it will not be all glamorous or glorious.

The Daily News is ready to co-operate generously with Teen Town in the way of publicizing its activities. Certainly, publicity will be important to those activities in maintaining interest, enthusiasm and support. But, in a good publicity set-up like anything else, there will have to be co-operation and willingness to do the work. The people of Teen Town will find the Daily News willing and anxious to offer its assistance, advice and space, providing they are ready to do their part.

Patience and Helpfulness

When men and nations are hungry and insecure there is little chance to develop and establish the ideals of goodwill and unselfishness upon which the welfare of the world collectively must be established. So, therefore, as Mr. Goldenberg, barrister and authority on economic matters, suggested in speaking here this week, we must be patient and not expect the re-formation of the world to come suddenly overnight.

After all, in the very nature of human life, there is the necessity of looking after one's self and one's own responsibilities. That applies to nations as well as individuals. When we are hungry, cold and unhappy, our elemental instincts of survival are naturally to the fore.

To bring about the ideals of democracy—among the principal of which is peace founded on security and mutual goodwill—we must, therefore, establish the economic security. First step we must take is to relieve the starvation and dire need and hopelessness among people who have come through five or six years of brutal warfare with all its horrors of death, pillage and destruction and today find themselves in desperate economic straits. They must be made happy in that way. By helping them we will have learned to share and will have appreciated the satisfaction of sharing and assisting. It is in this connection that we people of such blessed lands as Canada can play our part towards the world rebuilding and rehabilitation for which such an organization as the United Nations can provide the mechanics but cannot furnish the spirit.

The C.N.R. continues its rehabilitation policies by cutting down services and laying off wage-earners and at the same time finding new positions for its high paid officials. We join the Prince Rupert Daily News in asking "Are We Getting a Fair Deal?" and can answer it in the same breath—NO! —Interior News.

Mickleburgh Resolution Is Favored

Local Teacher Would Hold Price Ceilings—Prince Rupert In Limelight

VANCOUVER, (C)—Easing of price ceilings has put the cost of living up 10 per cent in the past few weeks and has cost teachers all their salary gains since 1934, even bringing their financial position below its 1939 level.

Delegates to the annual convention of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation heard this statement from Bruce E. Mickleburgh of Prince Rupert who moved a resolution urging restoration of ceiling prices and labor representation on the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

The convention unanimously endorsed the resolution which urged the government to "restore price ceilings and make no further concessions until supply more nearly approximates demand."

The convention also passed a resolution that the British Columbia Teachers' Federation basic salary schedule, urged as a basis for negotiation with school boards, be revised upwards and appointed a committee to study this question and report back at the present convention.

A resolution from the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association de-

MAY SAVE DAYLIGHT

Choice is Entirely up to Municipalities, Victoria Says

VICTORIA—Municipalities of British Columbia may have daylight saving and there will be no government interference providing the decision is by a three-fifths majority of their councils, Hon. R. C. Macdonald, minister of municipal affairs, announced yesterday. There will be no province-wide proclamation of daylight saving time.

Associate Editor Of Ottawa Citizen

OTTAWA—Charles J. Woodworth, former Vancouver newspaperman, has been appointed associate editor of the Southam newspaper Ottawa Citizen. Formerly with the Vancouver Province and the Winnipeg Free Press, he was with the British War Information Office in New Delhi, India, during the war.

explored "almost negligible" response of veterans to rehabilitation grants that pay expenses for teachers in training. The resolution said that "this is due to the fact that prevailing standards of remuneration still compare unfavorably with other professions notwithstanding wartime increases."

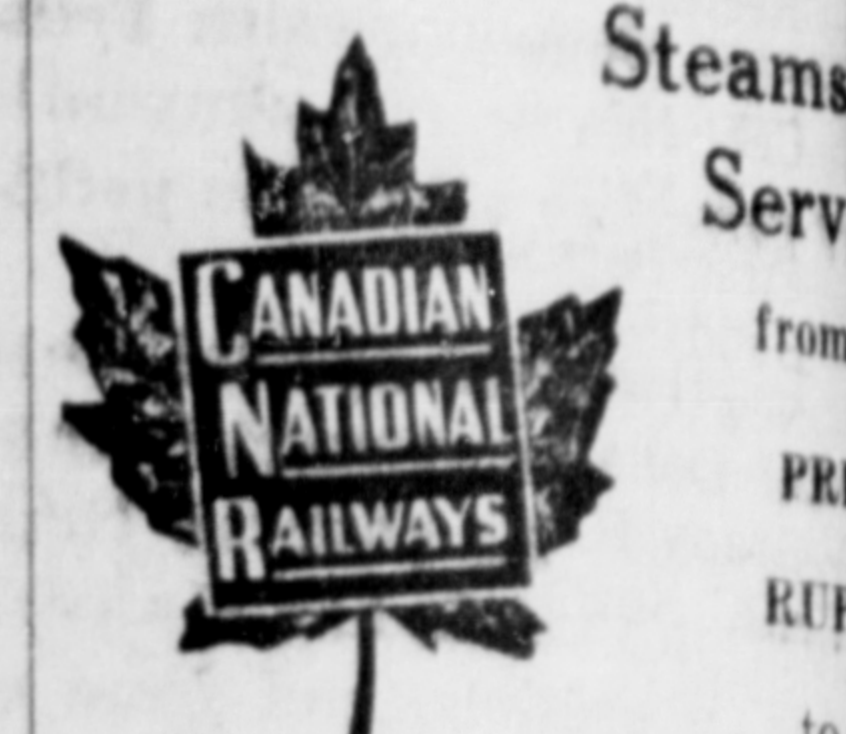

NEW U.A.W. CHIEFTAIN—Walter P. Reuther is "shouldered" by his supporters at the annual convention of the C.I.O.-United Auto Workers' Union in Atlantic City, N. J. where he was elected to the presidency. His election as chief of the world's largest union marked one of the most tremendous labor upheavals in American history. He defeated R. J. Thomas, president since 1939, who had the backing of both C.I.O. President Philip Murray and U.A.W. Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes.

LONDON, (C)—A five-foot cobra, pet of an English soldier who acquired it in India, has been given to the London zoo. Poison fangs removed on purchase had grown in again.

DISAGREE WITH PRICES BOARD

TORONTO—Cattle traders have sharply disagreed with a Prices Board assertion that current slump in livestock receipts is the result of a seasonal curtailment of cattle. Toronto cattlemen say that the drop never been as great as 75 per cent. That is what it was on Toronto market Tuesday.

1946 is an all-important year FOR CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN VISITORS are expected to come to Canada during 1946 for their first post-war vacation.

It won't always be easy to accommodate them. We still have our crowding and shortages. We are still in the aftermath of war. This is the very reason we should all take special care to be courteous and considerate to our guests this summer.

This year, of all years, we must maintain the reputation we have won for true hospitality.

YOU MAY NEVER SEE A TOURIST, BUT... tourist dollars flow to you. The grocer, the garage man, the farmer, the office worker—everybody benefits directly or indirectly from tourist spending, and the extra work and income it creates. Last year, tourists in Canada spent more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. In the years ahead, as our ability to handle tourist traffic grows, who is to say how big this business may become? For Canada is in an enviable position—a natural vacation land next door to the most travel minded nation in the world. This is an all-important year! It may be difficult in many ways yet it holds great promise for the future.

THEY'LL BE TALKING ABOUT US... We want them to come again. We want them to tell their friends: "We had a marvellous time in Canada!" By making them truly welcome, we can win millions of enthusiastic salesmen for Canada—"satisfied customers" who will pass on to many times their number the story of Canadian hospitality and of Canada's unlimited attractions as a vacation land.

"WE HAD A MARVELLOUS TIME IN CANADA"

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has for many years assisted in the development of logging, lumbering and the pulp and paper industry across the Dominion. Its branches, whether in old established communities or in the new town sites, serve the many banking requirements of companies and individuals associated with these industries.

BANKING IN ACTION is manifested in the crash of falling trees; in the rush of logs, as the lumberjacks break the jam and speed the timber on its way; in the scream of saws, as busy mills convert it into planks, beams and scantlings. Logging and lumbering provide work and wages for thousands—in the woods, the mills, the construction industry. The stream of wealth thus flowing across Canada is an example of Banking in Action.
