IS INDUCTED AT SMITHERS

Rev. C. A. Hinchcliffe Formally Installed at Smithers Church

SMITHERS — Canon C. A. Hinchcliffe was inducted as rector of St. James' Anglican Church of Smithers at a very impressive service held last Sunday morning and conducted by Bishop Gibson, Bishop of the Diocese of Caledonia. The wardens assisting in the service were Messrs. R. W. Champion and O. H. Hoskins. The Bishop gave a very fine address stressing the duties of each member of the church in assisting the rector to carry out his services.

Canon and Mrs. Hinchcliffe, with their family, Barbara (June), David, Eddie and Peter, arrived in Smithers recently, coming here from Dawson Creek. Canon Hinchcliffe has also served in parishes in Burns Lake and Terrace. They have taken up residence in the former Collison home which has recently been purchased as the Anglican Rectory.

A very sincere welcome is extended to them by the congregation of Smithers and district.

Scotland Yard Improves Radio

LONDON, (C)—Linking of police forces throughout the country by an improved radio system is part of Scotland Yard's new war on criminals.

Car bandits of the future will have a tough time as police radio cars, co-operating with county wireless stations, will converge on them from all directions.

Aim of the new plan is to bind county forces together in a radio-connected unit, each linked with other units. In addition to the many existing police wireless stations, new radio centres will be installed at strategic points.

Police cars in the country are gradually being converted to two-way radio telephony and this, with the link-up plan will lead to greater mobility.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent left-over crusts from becoming rancid?

A. When through baking, put the left-over crusts of bread into the oven until the oven is cool. Crusts treated in this way will grind better and will not get rancid nor stale.

Q. How can I keep enamel-ware clean?

A. By rubbing with a paste made of salt and vinegar.

Q. How can I remove machine grease spots?

A. To remove spots of machine grease from clothing, try using clear ammonia and soap.

NURSE SCHOOL OUTPUT HIGHER

Number of nursing students in British Columbia's seven training schools was increased by 49 per cent between the years 1939 and 1945, according to the report of Miss Margaret Colwell R. N., president of the Prince Rupert Registered Nurses' Association, to that body Monday night.

Miss Colwell, president of the local Registered Nurses' Association, was delegate to the annual convention of the B.C. Registered Nurses' Association in Vancouver last week.

Enrolment at training schools in 1939 was 758, Miss Colwell reported, as against the 1945 enrolment of 1,132, while at the same time the number of registered nurses in the province has increased from 2,296 in 1939 to 3,567 in 1945, an increase of 55 per cent.

Offsetting this increase in number of graduates and students and constituting the major cause of the present province-wide nurse shortage are such war-born factors as the vast increase in population with its necessary increase in hospital space; the number of nurses required for military hospitals; specialization by nurses in the fields of public health and technological lines.

University of British Columbia this year has a record of enrolment of graduate nurses taking advanced courses which takes them from professional practice. The Registered Nurses' Association is taking progressive steps to make the profession more attractive, making working conditions better throughout the province, offering bursaries and by co-ordinating its assignment service, whereby nurses in all parts of the province will have similar working conditions and salaries.

CONVENTION DATE IS SET

The annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia will be held at Terrace August 8 and 9 with resolutions to be in by August 1. The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was advised at its meeting Monday in a communication from Duncan Kerr of Terrace, secretary of the Associated Boards. Terrace is already making plans to receive a large and representative attendance of prominent citizens from all important points in the area between here and Prince George.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

May 8, 1921
James Benjamin McCulloch, pioneer Naas River missionary, died in Prince Rupert at the age of 68. He had served the natives for 33 years. Two million pounds of halibut was marketed in Prince Rupert during April. Owing to a shortage of fish cars, 162,000 pounds of halibut had been taken to other ports.

A new 75 foot lighthouse tender, the Birnie, built at Victoria, was due to come north and operate out of Prince Rupert in conjunction with the Newington. S. S. Magoffin, construction company partner, who has been building the new ocean dock, was enthusiastic about construction of coal bunkers at Prince Rupert, foreseeing increased railway traffic.
