GAIL HARVEY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

While her mother, Mrs. J. T. Harvey, was holding a tea in the ladies' lounge upstairs in honor of Mrs. G. R. Pearkes of Brentwood, Vancouver Island, seven-year old Gail Harvey was entertaining her young friends at a birthday party in the downstairs cafeteria of the Civic Centre yesterday afternoon. It was a gay affair with playing of games and dispensing of refreshments adequate to the young tastes and appetites. The serving table was featured by a handsome candle-bedecked birthday cake. Attending and assisting were the Misses Georgina Mitchell, Lynn Gordon, Gracie Woods, Norma Johnson, Sylvia Helland, Judy Flaten Ann Brown, Margo Brown, Barbara Teng, and Masters Roy Helland, Richard Forward, Christopher Harvey and Peter Harvey.

Hold Book Week For Young Folk

TORONTO (CP)—"Children's Book Week" is being observed for the first time in Canada. In Toronto a committee composed of representatives of the Public Library Board, Public and Separate School Boards, the Home and School Association and Canadian publishers has been formed for organization purposes.

The committee hopes that a permanent Children's Book Council will be inaugurated in 1947 to operate on a national scale. "Children's Book Week" has been observed in the United States since 1919.

BLOUSE BRIEF LATEST STYLE

NEW YORK (CP)—There's a new gadget on the market that should be a joy to suit-minded gals—the blouse brief, which is a sort of a glorified dickey, made with suits. What's different about the blouse is that it is made in just one size, yet fits all sizes from 10 to 44, through an ingenious biased-bra fit and the device of a row of adjustable snaps on tapes which fasten at the back. They say it won't twist or ride up, won't pull out of a skirt, and is designed to be worn with an open jacket with complete assurance. It even has shields built in to protect suit linings, though it has no sleeves. It comes in styles tailored or frou-frou, in fabrics ranging from rayon crepe to crisp organdie or starched ninon. Trimmings include delicate laces and dainty cut-out work. Best of all, it's easy to wash and iron, saves time for the busy working girl.
