LONDON, (AP) — W. Somerset Maugham has contributed the manuscript of his novel "Of Human Bondage" to the library of the United States Congress as a token of Anglo-American friendship. The manuscript has been sought for some time by American collectors.

DESERT STRETCH NOW GOLF COURSE

Area of Bush and Sand Made Over by Woman Professional
By EDDIE LEE

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—Blonde Helen Dettwiler hardly looks like the type who would spend her time dreaming up devices to make a golfer's life miserable. But that is exactly what she has been doing for the last few months at Idaho, Calif., where she is engaged in converting a stretch of desert into a nine-hole golf course.

Miss Dettwiler is a professional golfer with a pretty smile and that outdoor appearance. She will be the professional at the new course when it opens this month.

The course is owned jointly by Jacqueline Cochrane, wartime head of the WASPS and woman flyer of considerable note, and Floyd Odlum, New York financier. It will be open to the public.

Questioned about the business of building golf courses, Miss Dettwiler says it is "a lot of headaches."

"At first it was just a lot of desert, you know, bush and sand," she says. "We had to figure the acreage and then fit in the nine holes to the best advantage."

Weather Handicap

Water pipes had to be laid under the fairways and irrigation ditches built. The weather was not always co-operative She had to replant one 20-acre stretch three times following sand storms.

She visited Phoenix to gather some information from the Phoenix Country Club on the upkeep of greens. The club is noted throughout the southwest for the condition of its greens.

"The landscaping (that's placing obstacles so you can't miss them and making them attractive looking) was the toughest part," she says.

Miss Dettwiler started playing golf 12 years ago at Washington, D.C., and took her first lessons from Willie Low, present Phoenix professional who at that time worked at a Washington course. In 1939 she won the Western Open championship for women at the Westmoreland course in St. Louis. She turned professional the same year.

She served in the WASPS during the war and has been working on the course at Idaho since her discharge.

"It's been fun," she says. "I drove a bulldozer and a tractor and built some of the sand traps by hand."

Principal W. W. C. O'Neill presided.

Beautiful Smiles Depend on Teeth

FINE, SOUND TEETH DEPEND ON FOOD!

THE beauty of a child's teeth depends so much on proper diet. And Carnation Milk is outstandingly useful in a diet planned to maintain healthy teeth. For Carnation, as it pours from the can, contains two the calcium and phosphorus found in ordinary milk . . . and many times the "sunshine" vitamin D. As a drinking milk (properly diluted and chilled), used in cooking, or used undiluted on cereals and fruit, Carnation can do a lot for the teeth of your youngsters.

Why a STILL GREATER SHARE OF THE INCOME TAX may fall on INDIVIDUALS

There is a very grave danger that a higher percentage of the country's revenue than at present may have to come in the future from your personal income tax.

Tax-free co-operatives, crown companies, government and municipally owned corporations are rapidly expanding in numbers and scope. Because of the fact that they escape paying income tax, the government is already losing 125 millions of dollars of potential revenue annually (Estimate of Professor J. L. McDougall presented to a special committee of the Senate).

That means that all individual tax payers in Canada pay an extra $50.00 each, on the average, in income tax, so that these corporations may be tax-free.

4500 tax-free co-operatives

Some 4500 co-operatives in this country have been escaping income tax because they claimed that co-operatives make no profits.

A Royal Commission on Co-operatives has declared that co-operatives do make profits, and has recommended that their profits be taxed. But it has also recommended that profits paid out to customers in the form of "patronage dividends" should be treated as an expense in computing taxable income.

If this latter recommendation of the Royal Commission becomes law, co-operatives and other businesses will be at liberty to pay out all their earnings as patronage dividends, leaving nothing to tax.

Co-operatives and privately owned businesses would be entirely free to decide whether or not they chose to pay income tax.

All profits must be taxed equally

If this country is going to have an income tax law, then all profits must be taxed, and taxed fairly. We do not object to the payment of "patronage dividends" out of profits after income tax has been paid. But we do object to the recommendation that patronage dividends be classed as an ordinary expense of doing business. "Patronage dividends" must be placed in the same category as the dividends from any privately owned business.

Revision of The Income War Tax Act, insofar as it concerns Co-operatives, will come before the current Session of Parliament. It is of utmost importance that such revisions shall bring tax equality to all groups. We urge that the income tax payers of Canada insist that their elected representatives in the House of Commons see that the heavy burden of income tax is shared fairly by all.

The Income Tax Payers Association has no objection to the principles of co-operative trading. It should be the right of every Canadian to trade as he desires. Our objective is to ensure that no section of business unloads its share of income taxation and cost of the war on other business or on individual income tax payers.
