THE WHOLE BIBLE FOR THE WHOLE WORLD

SATURDAY SERMON

The Handmaid of Faith—Evidence
(By REV. W. F. RUSHBROOK, B.A.)

"We have seen the (risen) Lord."
"Except I shall see in His hands the print of the nails and put my finger into the print of the nails . . . I will not believe." —John 20:25.
Thomas' assertion finds its echo in every heart that would believe in the living person of the crucified Jesus.

Jesus honored and respected that demand. A week later he said to Thomas: "Reach hither thy finger and behold my hands . . ." The concrete evidence was sufficient for a full faith answered "My Lord and my God." "Thomas, because thou hast seen, thou hast believed. Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed."

With these words Jesus would teach Thomas and us also that the witness of others must be a factor in our faith. Nevertheless men crave the experimental evidence. Jesus himself did: "Whom do men say that I, the Son of Man am." "Some say thou art . . ." "But whom say ye that I am." (He asked this of men who had lived, worked and suffered with Him for the last three years, some had probably known Him from boyhood). "Thou art The Christ the Son of the living God."

"Blessed art thou Simon Bar-Jona," is Jesus' glad retort. His intimate companions had seen God in Him.

Philip requested the concrete too when he said to Jesus: "Show us the Father and it sufficeth us." Philip: "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father." Jesus is God incarnate.

John in his Gospel and also in his letters emphasises the great value to our faith in realizing the full humanity of Jesus and so our understanding contact with him. "The Word was made flesh and dwelt among us and we beheld His glory." He begins His letters thus: ". . . that which we have seen and heard . . . and which our hands have handled . . . declare we unto you." But he adds it is the blood of this Jesus that cleanseth us from all sin and "He is the propitiation for our sins."

John's evidence becomes more valuable to us when we recall that, apart from sacred history, he, through Polycarp and Justin Martyr, also speaks to us. The Christian religion asks us to accept nothing that is contrary to reason or that denies the evidence of our senses. To do so would not be faith but credulity and there is no room for that in Christianity. "Put your finger into the print of the nails."

Today, Science, especially in the field of archeology, is giving the doubter a splendid array of torical truth of both Old and New Testaments. For instance, "The pre-flood Sumerian history in which many of the old Patriarch's names are given, the Noahic flood (Wooley), the events in Gen. 14. King Amraphel is now a well known historical figure. We have his laws—120 of them. But what is perhaps more important, an account by his astronomer of a heliac transit of Venus. Both British and of concrete evidence of the his-French astronomers have verified both time and place thus fixing the date time of Abraham. So one might take up the fall of Jericho or the intriguing Hittite question for the Scientist cries: "Come and see and be not doubtful but believing."

In the New Testament read Luke 7:1-5, then go to Tell-Hum, the site of ancient Capernaum, the home city of Jesus, and let Pere Orfall a Franciscan Father lead you through and explain the excavated ruins of the Synagogue built by the Roman Centurian and walk the pavement once trod by our Blessed Lord and "Be not faithless but believe."
