Speaking generally, Dr. Renfrew said he had found the roads better than he had expected and that applied to the Prince Rupert Highway. However, while the base of the local highway was "wonderful," the loose top was hard on synthetic tires.

During their stay here, Dr. and Mrs. Renfrew found interest in visiting the canneries, the cold storage plants, the waterfront generally and also derived much pleasure from harbor trips on motor boats.

They sailed this afternoon on Legion wishing to attend should Renfrew camped enroute and the Catala for Vancouver whence

Seems to be some hope there! But why should disturbed sleep turn your bedroom into a musichall? Why not have a sound, dream-free sleep every night? Dreams are often the result of caffein nerves - of drinking tea and coffee.
