ROBBERY,

Robert Teeporten Victim of Desperate Youth in Bush of Vancouver's North Shore

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)-Provincial police reported last night that a youth, apparently intent upon robbery, shot and killed Robert F. Teeporten, aged 39, in a woodland cabin east of here, attacked and beat Teeporten's wife and then fled into bush country near Deep Cove.

All police forces on the north shore across the harbor from Vancouver are on the alert as an organized search gets under way for the youthful killer who police believe is still carrying the shotgun he used to kill Tecporten.

Mrs. Teeporten says that the youth fired after Teeporten refused to give him the keys to their car. He then attacked her with a stick.

Police say that Mrs. Teeporten identified the youth as Donald Russell of North Vancouver, a friend of the Teeporten family who had been staying with them for the last two days.

REAL LIFE DRAMA ON BROADWAY-A real life drama was played out on a Broadway sidewalk in New York when a Czech father and his daughter, each of whom thought the other murdered by the Nazis, were reunited under a movie marquee. The father, Arthur Gross-Polesiuk, 46, had been in a Nazi concentration camp in Prague during which time he believed his daughter dead. Walking along Broadway he suddenly recognized Irving Gray, his brother-in-law. After mutual greetings the father learned that his long "dead" child was very much alive and in New York. The daughter was to meet Gray for lunch and so a few minutes later father and daughter embraced as they wept. Here the happy father and his daughter, Erika, are shown following stranger-than-fiction reunion.

Refusal of Minister of Trade and Commerce to Grant Shipping Bonus Draws Fire Here

Receipt of information that Hon. James A. McKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, had advised interests applying for the recently passed United Kingdom shipping subsidy through this port that his department did not consider inauguration of any subsidized ocean service at this time expedient, drew a prompt protest and demand for explanation from the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce today. When a reply is received from Mr. McKinnon, the executive of the Chamber will be called into session to determine what further action, if any, should be taken. An offer had been made to the Minister of Trace and Commerce to operate a freight service from Prince Rupert to the United Kingdom at $10,000 per trip up to six trips per year. Mr. MacKinnon then communicated as follows:

"Although the sum of $60,000 was placed in the estimates for this service in case it mignt of needed, I may say that my department has given close attention and consideration to your offer but the resumption of ocean subsidies that were discontinued during the war or inauguration of any subsidized ocean service is not considered expedient at this time."

Message to Minister

The following message was sent to Mr. Mackinnon on behalf of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce: "We have definite information that an application has been made for the Prince Rupert-United Kingdom deepsea subsidy and that you have declined same as not expedient at this time. This community requests an immediate explanation of this sudden change in the government's attitude particularly as we were led to believe that your department was favorable to our efforts to build up traffic through this port. Your latest decision will antagonize this whole area and nullify our efforts to build up trade."

istry of finance.

Civic Court of Revision, which sat this morning, aropped three 1/2 names from the unofficial voters' list compiled last week by City Clerk H. D. Thain, thereby setting the official list at 1,909 names.

The court, which sat this morning to consider the eligibility of voters whose names appear on the list, was composed of Mayor H. M. Daggett and Aldermen MacKay and Arnold. The 1946 voters' list is smaller by 254 names than the 1945 list, which contained 2,163 names. The number of householders dropped about 290. A AFRICA
