YOUNG ARTISTS IN EXHIBITION

First Semi-Annual Show in Toronto by Lesser Known Canadian Artists
By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO — A new chapter in the history of Canadian art may be written with the opening here of the first semi-annual exhibition of paintings and sculpture by the Canadian Younger Artists Group.
Most of those exhibiting are under 30. They represent practically every province in Canada, and several even give home addresses as far away as China, Japan, Czechoslovakia and Trinidad.
Many of the artists are war veterans, but few of the pictures deal with their war experiences. Instead for the most part they are quiet studies of Canadian scenes, such as "Tail-End of Winter," by Vernon Mould, Toronto, and Gordon Couling's "Houseboats, Vancouver."
Born in Guelph, Ont., Mr. Couling exhibited a year ago in the British Columbia Artists Annual. He will return to Vancouver shortly for an exhibition of his own July 12, Aug. 14.
Aim of the Society is to provide lesser known artists with a means of bringing their work before the public, said Mr. Couling. "Another of its purposes is to work toward making lithographs and prints of good pictures more available to people

ANGLICAN TEA WELL ATTENDED

Held in the home of Mrs. A. T. Parkin Saturday afternoon, St. Andrew's Catholic Women's Auxiliary tea and sale of home cooking was well attended, the guests being received by Auxiliary president, Mrs. A. L. Holtby. Con- venger was Mrs. Parkin, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Audrey Brooksbank. Pourers during the first hour were Mrs. W. J. Nelson and Mrs. F. S. Walton while, during the second hour, Mrs. Gordon Durkin and Mrs. B. S. Prockter poured. Cashier was Mrs. W. M. Hall. In charge of the home cooking table were Mrs. G. A. Hill and Mrs. H. C. Flood. Serviteurs were Mrs. T. Spear, Mrs. I. Martin, Mrs. W. M. Watts and Mrs. E. V. Whiting.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY
Q. How can I keep sandwiches fresh?
A. Sandwiches, or bread and butter that has been prepared overnight, will stay fresh and moist if placed between two plates and then wrapped in a cloth that has been wrung out of cold water.
Q. How can I relieve and ease a slight sprain?
A. Beat up and apply the whites of eggs. When dry, renew the application.
Q. How can I store lace and prevent it from dry rot?
A. Wrap the lace to be stored in waxed paper and it will not be subject to dry rot.

FEDERAL-STATE AGREEMENT CANBERRA, Australia
—Under the federal-state agreement by which the federal government retains wartime priority over income taxation, and reimburses the states for abandoning such revenue, the Commonwealth will pay the equivalent of $144,000,000 a year to the states for two years. The grant will increase according to growth of population and wages.

in the lower income brackets... I've found that even people at the $5,000-a-year level have few good pictures in their homes."
Mr. Couling deplored the lack of art critics in Toronto. "It is amazing that in a city this size there apparently aren't more than one or two good critics," he said.
A portrait of a "Polish Refugee Child," by 23-year-old Margaret Hovey of Sherbrooke, Que., was one of the few exhibits with a wartime theme.
David Payne, Indian Head, Sask., a Canadian Army veteran who exhibited in the Canadian Army Art Show, had three paintings on display.
Several of the members of the Group are earning their living either by painting on a commercial basis or as commercial artists. Some are studying at the Ontario College of Art. They meet once a week to discuss individual problems, sketch, and argue theories of art.

Miss Dorothy Hills, sister of Rev. R. Hills, head of the Junior W. A., was in charge of the program and Junior W. A. girls taking part were Joan Gillanders, Ellen Richmond, Geraldine Smart, Dolores Honke, Irene Cote, Dorothy McCabe, Marilyn Minshall, Anna Mae Parrant, Pearl Haugland, Marilyn de Kergommeaux.
Mrs. C. L. M. Giggey presided at the urns. Those assisting with the tea were Mrs. J. Olson, Mrs. D. McMillan, Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. F. Clifford, Sarah and Margaret Mile, Roberta Lambly, Joyce Cote, Kay Willisroft, Marguerite Paquette, Bernice Matthews, Norma and Joyce Perry, Mrs. G. Dover was cashier.

WILL ATTEND CHURCH MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS

Pastor A. O. Aasen, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, leaves on the Catala tomorrow for Vancouver whence he will proceed to Minneapolis to attend the biennial convention of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America and Canada which convenes June 11. The two Sundays he is away the services will be conducted by Gus Mostad and other church members. Ingvar Fenes, lay delegate of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will likewise go to Minneapolis to attend the convention. Mr. Fenes goes direct through Canada and leaves Friday evening by train.
It is popularly believed in Holland that where the stork nests no fire will come.

HE HAS TO COUNT 'EM!
You have to keep track of a few butter and sugar coupons but your grocer has to account for thousands. This constant check-up is just one of the things that he has to do in helping to maintain our food distribution system—and it's no mean task!

Seeks Reason For Religious Apathy

LONDON — In oil-stained overalls, Rev. John Quigley, vicar of Wembley, works a machine minder in a lamp factory.
He is trying to discover why there is a "gulf" between church and factory and has given up his church stipend for the duration of the experiment. In the evenings and on Sundays he continues his church work.
"I have never done work of this kind before," he said. "I found it a bit of a strain at first but, as my foreman told me, 'We'll make a man of you yet.' Now I'm quite hardened to it."
Mr. Quigley said he finds many fellow-workers eager to discuss religious matters but "it is too early yet to draw any definite conclusions." He is returning to his church this month.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA L. REE
Q. If one phones a business acquaintance and he is not in his office, would it be proper to leave a message to have him call you when he returns?
A. That would depend upon whether you are doing him a favor, or the reverse. If you wish to sell something to him or ask a favor, it is in your place to call again.
Q. Should both a fork and a spoon be furnished with a dessert?
A. Yes, with certain desserts, though a dessert should be eaten with a fork when possible.
Q. Should one reply to a letter that announces an engagement?
A. Yes, and with sincere expressions of interest and best wishes.

Oh tell me pretty maiden is there any more at home like this?

1. Maybe you don't remember the Floradora Girls, but Grandmother and Granddad do. And they remember too, that another unforgettable treat appeared about the same time — that gloriously different Grape-Nuts flavor!

2. That same multi-rich, nut-sweet flavor or your parents and grandparents have loved so long is yours today in two grand cereals. POST'S GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES as well as Post's Grape-Nuts.

3. Two golden grains — wheat and malted barley — give Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; other food essentials.

4. Secret skilful blending, baking and toasting give you that honey-golden curly crispness of Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes. Also makes them remarkably easy to digest. Serve Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes tomorrow. Enjoy them also in the tempting recipes you'll find on both the regular size and giant economy size packages.
