American Visitors Ascend in Flying Club Machine

TERRACE-The Terrace Flying Club put in a busy day last Friday showing that Terrace is the proud possessor of a first-class airport to the Associated Boards delegates from Alaska. Time being short for their visit, these people were glad to avail themselves of the opportunity to view the district from the air. The agricultural possibilities of the hinterland adjacent to Prince Rupert are easily realized from the aerial view. Pilot W. S. Cooper and his air engineer, among other residents of the district, had a busy time.
