Marine Engineers Coming to Terms on East and Gulf Coast -West Coast Still Tied Up

NEW YORK, (P)_C.I.O. marine engineers and east and gulf coast ship operators today signed contract to settle the 22-day old maritime walk-out but striking deck officers and licensed ship personnel continued to bottle up virtually all United States ship-

Before the shipping tie-up on the east and gulf coasts comes to an end, however, the pact must be ratified by both the union membership and 44 shipping companies.

Also the ship operators and other unions involved in the strike-American Federation of Labor mates and pilots-must also come to terms. The masters seek a 30 per cent increase and a closed shop.

This would leave the west coast still strikebound. The unions are to negotiate with the west coast shipping ix errsts after conclud-

SAFE AFTER SHIP CRASH

Another American Vessel is Sunk in Grenville Channel

J. H. McLeod, collector of customs, who received word yesterday morning of the sinking of the American cannery tender America in Grenville Channel, about six miles north of Klew Nugget, had satisfied himself last night that all on board the vessel had been rescued by another tender, Helen S., and were on their way to Seattle.

The sinking of the America, a diesel vessel of 60 feet length, followed collision with the big halibut vessel Dorothy. The America was heading south following the ending of the salmon season in Alaska waters. The Dorothy was bound north and, sustaining little damage, was able to proceed.

The United States coastguard vessel MacLean was dispatched from Ketchikan to give any necessary assistance but was recalled after it became apparent that her services were not required.
