PREPARING FOR MOTORISTS-Here are the first pictures highway in peace ime dress. The great Alaskan highway, most in all history, is now being readied for all-out traffic. At restricted civilian traffic. Costing $125,000,000, the 1,600-mile long in 1942, finished in October, 1943—actual construction time frontier. The road opens up one of the richest mineral areas fishing, husting for grizzly bear, caribou, moose, elk, deer hoto shows the Alaskan highway as it looks today. A gravel country comparatively few white men have ever set foot on.

Shipment of the first carload of grain from Telkwa to Prince Rupert was heralded as a redletter day for the Bulkley Valley. The car was loaded by Roy Wakefield, Telkwa farmer, and it was expected that more would

A huge banquet was given by the citizens in honor of the first grain ship to enter the port of Prince Rupert. It was the Aden Maru, a Japanese vessel, whose officers and men were feasted royally. Chairman was Olof Hanson, president of the Board of Trade.

The Canadian National steamer Prince Charles was reported aground at Massett, according to word brought to the city from the Islands. She was under command of Capt. Neil McLean.

WAYNE AND SHUSTER—Canada's new comedy headliners are Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, left and right above. Wayne and Shuster first came to the nation's notice as acting-writing stars of the Canadian Army Show, but they have been a comedy team ever since high school and college days in Toronto. They were in Prince Rupert during the war.
