

CITY OF PRINCE RUPERT NOTICE

The attention of all plumbers and home owners is directed to By-law No. 1026, which regulates plumbing and sewerage installation in the City.

The main provisions of the By-law are:

- (1) That a permit must be obtained from the Plumbing Inspector before plumbing or sewerage work can be undertaken.
- (2) That work of this nature can be performed only by a person holding a Certificate of Competency. For further details, consult the City Engineer.

H. D. THAIN,
City Clerk.

You Can Be Sure It's

THE REAL THING

Laboratory tests reveal what the eye can't possibly see... the great difference in quality of various types of asphalt roofing.
In spite of acute shortages of raw materials, Genuine Duroid Roofs are still made with a base of best rag felt... considerably outlasts any other type of asphalt roof.

Be sure to get the real thing... a Genuine Duroid Roof. Accept no substitute. Look for the Sidney Seal of Quality

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When answering a wedding invitation what form should one use?

A. The same form should be used as when replying to any formal invitation, and should be written on the first page of a good white note paper.

Q. Should the bread and butter plates remain on the table throughout the entire meal?

A. No; they should remain until the desert is served.

Q. Is it permissible to terminate a conversation that has grown too tedious?

A. Yes; quiet dignity and tact will succeed invariably.

YUKON VETERAN OF WAR WEDDED

Queen Charlotte Island Girl is Bride of Carl L. Sorensen of Whitehorse

A Yukon soldier, on his way home to the north after overseas service in Germany and elsewhere in western Europe with the Duke of York's Hussars, and a Queen Charlotte Island girl were united in marriage at a quiet wedding ceremony in the Manse of First Presbyterian Church last evening.

Rev. A. F. MacSweeney officiated and the attendants of the couple —Miss Margaret T. May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. May of Port Clements, and Carl L.
Sorensen, son of Mr. and Mrs.
C. U. Sorensen of Whitehorse—were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Batt.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen will proceed from here to Whitehorse to make their home.

DICKIE SORENSON LEARNS DANCING AS CAREER START

Dickie Sorensen, who at the age of nine is believed to be the smallest midget on the continent and possibly in the world, has begun training for what may be his life career. The tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sorensen has begun to take dancing lessons.

Refusing to have their son "experimented" on by doctors who so far have offered no reasonable hope of giving Dickie normal growth, Mr. and Mrs.
Sorensen were wondering in what way Dickie might make his livelihood when he gets older.

Mrs. Sorensen believed that their boy, who is 29½ inches tall and weighs about 13 pounds, might learn professional dancing and become an entertainer.

Recently he became the pupil of Mrs. Mavis Colclough. "He is learning fast, and seems to enjoy his lessons a lot," Mrs.
Colclough said. "He will soon take his fifth dancing lesson."

Mrs. Colclough read a news story that the Sorensens wanted Dickie to take up dancing but were unable to find a teacher.

"I got in touch with Mrs.
Sorensen, and she agreed that I should give Dickie dancing lessons," Mrs. Colclough declared.
"He is showing good progress and I believe I can give him opportunity for a career."
