PONTIAC BY-ELECTION

EVEN THE MOST ARDENT of Liberals cannot dismiss the surprise result of the federal by-election in the Quebec riding of Pontiac as an insignificant event politically. It could have been no fluke that a Liberal plurality of seven thousand since the general election last year should have been dissipated in the smaller poll of a by-election leaving 500 to spare for the election of a Social Crediter.

Whatever the direct reason for Real Caouette's election, the outstanding thing about the result is the defeat of the government candidate at this time in a seat that for thirty years had done nothing else but elect Liberal members. It does not appear to speak very highly for the current strength of the government in the old stronghold province.

As for other parties nothing much in the way of commentary can be offered. Progressive-Conservatives appear to have made a strong run for them in that riding which, displayed rightist tendencies. C.C.F. and Labor-Progressives, which ran evidently for propaganda purposes, were not a factor.

SPEAKING OF HOMEWORK

IT WAS WELL SAID by H. N. Mc-Corkindale, the municipal superintendent of schools in Vancouver, that Teen Town activities had better be confined to Friday and Saturday nights so that the students may spend the week-day evenings, as they should do, on their homework.

It may be a little old-fashioned, in the minds of the teen-agers at least, to think that the week-day evenings should be devoted to the homework but, nevertheless, it does seem that of late that there has been too much extraneous activity for the good of the real purpose of student life.

What Mr. McCorkindale says needed to be said and it is applicable not only in Vancouver although teen age activities may not be the distracting diversion everywhere.

A LITTLE CO-OPERATION

IN ITS CAMPAIGNING for this and that Prince Rupert, while keeping up a vigorous fight for things it considers its due and right, should not accept the belief that all the rest of the world is against it. Doubtless, powerful interests in the past have not given us the sympathetic and clear-cut support they may have. Indeed, had we been accorded co-operation on all occasions, we might have been better off today. All of which might well remind us that, if we were able to get along with the rest of the world and work together with it in the advancement of common aims, we might make some headway ourselves. Possibly, a little co-operation at times instead of trying to get it alone all the time might get us places. For instance, how much better it would be if the people of Prince Rupert and Prince George from here to the east and the people of Prince Rupert to Vancouver, from north to south, would try to come to some sort of agreement on mutual development of the country instead of pulling against each other in purely sectional considerations.

RUSSIA'S PLOT

Editor, Daily News: Has anyone thought of the consequences of the debate now going on among the big nations about the port of Trieste on the Adriatic Sea? I am of the opinion there is a far reaching plot that has never been attempted before and is of vital interest to the whole white race as it happens to be at the only land route to Italy from the East. And Russia is very near it. Everyone knows of her wish to expand westward. A port will mean a naval base later and Africa.

The real danger is of Russia getting control of Palestine, the seat of the Protestant religion. What that means to the white races would be like cutting off the root of a plant.

Turkey is again the seat of the Moslem religion which, turn, controls near one-quarter of the population of the world.

Why Russia is so concerned about Trieste is part of the san plot to reach the Vatican and the Pope, the seat of the Catholic eral Party between big business religion. What bargaining power and small business. she would gain if she controlled In . wer to a question re-der state control, she can close their doors at will.

In other countries the church is separate from the government. "The church is a law unto itself." Therefore the white races of the world are in danger of losing the right of free worship that millions have fought and died for down through the years. Can anyone picture those three points in the world under the control of another country that has no religion herself? It would mean turning the clock back two r three hundred years with the law going to the strongest.

QUESTION FOR ARCHIBALD Editor, Daily News:

from big business. When the LPP advocated a Liberal-Labor coalition the leadership of the CCF-including Mr Archibald-accused them of tak-LPP proposal of making Labor a partner in government been realized, the Liberals, representing small business, might not have been forced to yield to pres sure of monopoly capital but would probably have been part of a coalition for progress. Mr. Archibald's only remarks regarding the international situation were to the effect that, if and when World War Three starts, we would know where we stood. What does he mean? With the peace not yet won, what are Mr. Archibald and the CCF doing to help win the peace and thereby prevent the catastrophe of an atomic war, the horror of which we, the people, have no conception, and which experts claim will be fought on Canadian soil? Now is the time to mobilize the people for action against war-not to wait until one starts to make our stand.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I am, J. R. BLAKEY.
