ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

(By Dorothy Garbutt)

After making very elaborate arrangements with a certain sailor who shall be nameless—except to say that his initials are H. H. and he works on the gate vessels and he's a PO.—to go to the showing of the Norwegian films Tuesday night, he never turned up. I think it's called being stood up. At any rate I didn't let it interfere with my intentions of going, so Chester Lemaistre and I, complete with a nice big bag of cherries, trotted along. The cherries came in handy too, to while away the time because, through what the BBC used to call a "technical hitch" the loudspeaker got tempermental and refused point blank to work. The interval was filled with musical offerings by Mr. Dahl, Mr. Duffus and Mr. Lieu—an interval during which everyone who could help scurried around getting odd pieces of electric wiring, switches and so on, until finally the all-clear was sounded and the films were shown.

There were five films, four very interesting newsreels of Norwegian life in the British Isles, the big military school in London, launching of Norwegian corvettes, a merchant marine seamen's rest centre in Hereford, dedication services at St. Olaf's church in London (now in ruins) and finally a longer film in technicolor of the marvellous Norwegian Aviation centre in Toronto known all these films there were interesting pictures of King Haakon, his son, Crown Prince Olaf and his family. What an extremely tall man the Norwegian King is And judging by his pictures the young Prince Harald, grandson of the king, is going to be just as tall, because he looks more like an eight-year-old than his five years.

Rudolph Olsen, who was chairman for the evening, tells me further films are to be shown in aid of the Norwegian Merchant Seamen's Fund, and one especially interesting one is coming called "One Thousand Ships" based on Elsa Lindbeck's well known book on the Norwegian Merchant Marine.

Florida and New Orleans Picture Show

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club was entertained at its regular weekly luncheon yesterday with highly interesting moving pictures in color of scenes in the state of Florida and the city of New Orleans. The pictures were shown by Corp. Julius Mendelsson of Miami, Florida, who took the most of them himself. The Florida pictures included some fine shots of the flora and fauna of that state as well as some scenic views. The pictures of New Orleans featured the old French quarter of that ancient city at the mouth of the Mississippi, followed by scenes of the more modern metropolitan section as well as some views of industry and shipping.

The luncheon was presided over by Past President W. J. Scott in the absence of President Frank Skinner. Guests included B. P. Marr and Frank Borham of Vancouver; Dr. R. E. Foerster and Dr. A. L. Pritchard of Nanaimo and Sub-Lieutenant Walter Smith of Prince Rupert.

Members were reminded of the annual club picnic to be held on the coming Sunday.

25 YEARS AGO

Captain J. A. Kirkpatrick, who left Prince Rupert early in the war to join the 102nd Battalion, returned to spend a few weeks visiting with friends.

Announcement was made by President M. P. McCaffery at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade that a party of between 70 and 75 members of the Vancouver and Victoria Boards of Trade were contemplating a visit to Prince Rupert and the central interior.

The biggest run of sockeye salmon in years was being experienced on the Skeena river. Daily catches of 300 fish per boat were common and some fishermen caught as many as 600 in 24 hours.

A fleet of 24 halibut boats arrived in port, unloading fish which filled nine refrigerator cars. Canadian halibut sold for 10 cents a pound and American for 11 cents.
