RESOURCEFUL YOUNGSTERS ASSIST W.A.

At a recent meeting of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary the members were agreeably surprised to receive a cash donation from a group of young people who had demonstrated their patriotism and resourcefulness on previous occasions. Margaret Wide, Edna Gardner, Mary Basso, Margaret Dunnington, Lenora Webster, Edna Ronalds, and Dolores Lamb held a concert in the Ronald basement and served sandwiches and lemonade, thereby netting $4. They also conducted a raffle of a dozen fresh laid eggs donated by Mr. Ronalds, realizing $3. The winner of the raffle was Mrs. George Scott. The sum of $7 was handed to the auxiliary for their war work.

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

ly during by-elections) either through ignorance or misrepresentation pick out the orders that bring discomfort or interfere with personal enjoyment or cause hardships, and not only exploit the situation, but visit the authority upon the provincial government.

"It is very easy to do because we are nearer to home and closer to the people but whether it be the rationing of tea, coffee, rubber, gasoline or beer, we not only have nothing to do with it but we are not even consulted about it.

"Within the limits of such powers as our own we have advanced in every direction.

"I would like you now to go back with me to the opening of the last session of parliament in this province because I think something occurred on that day, rare indeed in parliamentary procedure.

"Seldom, if ever, before did the people of this province or any province, receive such a full and frank forecast of legislation to be introduced; such a list of things to be done.

"Our program was within your knowledge the day the House opened, and our forecast of that program was followed by action.

"Let me detail some of the things we did in that one session.

"Old Age Pensions were brought up to $30 a month.

"We increased Mothers' Pensions.

"We set aside one million acres of the best lands available in the province for returned soldiers under the Dominion Re-establishment Scheme.

"We rebated land taxes to those in the services while so engaged.

"We remitted succession duties, and we pledged preference to returned men for government jobs.

"We reduced motor licence fees by 20 per cent.

"We gave the farmer exemption on improvements—another step toward making the way of life on the farm a little easier—a little more secure.

"We continued the farmer's right to work out his taxes on the roads.

"During that same session we looked to the North and the great possibilities of the Peace River Block—to those lands tapped by the Alaska Highway—and we looked upon them as something to be made a real part of this province.

"We have provided the money necessary to link that part of British Columbia up with our highway system.

"This northern trade belongs to us and your government intends to open up these opportunities.

"Anticipating the change from war to peace, we have already planned an extensive building program involving millions of dollars as part of a practical, realistic rehabilitation plan.

"By that I mean something you can look at and not talk about.

"We increased the list of free text books in the schools and made substantial grants in order that rural school teachers might get an increase in salary.

"These things I have mentioned were immediate things.

"But we were looking to the future.

"We set up a commission to thoroughly examine and report upon rural electrification. This commission is now at work.

"We did this because we wanted all of our people to have every advantage that electricity brings in this age, its great economic value, its efficiency, its comfort, its contribution to every kind of development.

Looking ahead again, we thought we should modernize our laws regarding the free staking and development of minerals, coal and oil.

People who are willing to bring and to risk their money in the development of these things in this province may still do so.

"That we will encourage and welcome, but after this they will do it as operators and not as speculators.

"And again looking to the future, we provided money to grubstake prospectors who were free to find new mineral wealth in this province.

"We gave relief to the prospector who was holding mineral claims but is engaged at war work and therefore unable to do his annual assessment work.

"We gave assistance to the establishment of our new flax industry in the Fraser Valley, which we hope will become another major industry.

"We set aside money to be used, in conjunction with the University of British Columbia and industrial concerns, each contributing their share, for a research council.

"It is intended to apply the results to the creation of new industries.

"There is a great field for this in British Columbia.

"As you know, there are two schools of thought in your legislature.

"We on the government side believe in freedom of choice, freedom in this country to do things and to make things without undue and constant governmental interference.

"The Opposition, the C.C.F. party, believe in state socialism.

"If they mean what they say, it is a system that will regulate your every action by the government.

"It will, in truth, ration your very lives.

"What did you hear from this Opposition when your government was in action?

"They mention improved old age pensions, but they do not mention what age nor what amount.

"They would increase mothers' pensions. They do not say how much, nor do they say that we did increase them from $35 a month to $42.50.

"They mention a comprehensive Health Insurance Scheme, but whether it is in competition with, in addition to or in lieu of, the Dominion scheme, they do not say.

"I search and search in vain for any reference to returned soldiers in their provincial policy.

"There is no suggestion there of preferential treatment of war veterans in government jobs.

"They never thought of our contemplated one million acres being set aside for the returned man.

"There is not a word about the land in the Fraser Valley formerly held by the Japanese being turned over to the veterans.

"They never suggested a rebate of taxes or succession duties to returned soldiers.

"They do not mention any rebate on motor licence fees, nor the giving of any tax exemption to farmers.

"There is no visualization of the Peace River road, nor the finishing of the P.G.E.

"I have pulled this policy of theirs—this mobilization of generalities—out of the clouds and down to earth in order that you may compare it with the realities which we have faced and grappled with.

"Compare it with the improvements we have brought in and the things we have done.

"Yes, we have been working during these two and a half years.

"We have not had time for organizing and broadcasting and talking politics in this province or adjoining provinces.

"We have been doing this job for you.

"We have been trying to maintain for you a war government which you can be proud of, and at the same time not fail you in post-war matters.

"The facing of post-war problems will be easy for us because our credit is as high, if not higher, than any province in Canada.

"For this I pay great tribute to the Honorable the Premier who is also minister of finance.

"We have great chances in this province — far better than in most countries.

"We start with a high standard of living.

"Capital and labor are on such good terms that our strike record is easily the best in Canada.

"I am proud of the contribution British Columbia has made to our war effort.

"Our resources are such that industry can be made to flourish and prosper.

"The markets of the world are open to us.

"There can be available for investment here millions to farm and mine and log and fish and manufacture and build.

"But it won't be available under state socialism.

"But remember this, every time you frighten away a million dollars the worker pays for it—it robs his payroll.

"Sound government by experienced men can bring these things here, and at the same time can progress in social legislation as we have done for fifty years.

"We can safeguard the worker; we can be fair to capital; we can maintain our prosperity, and at the same time our individual freedom. On the other hand, we can turn to the experiment of the inexperienced—we can listen to the noise of the opportunists—we can turn to state socialism.

"Some people say, why worry about the policies of the C.C.F. Party—they cannot do these things—they won't work.

"Well, I know this.

"They can try, and in trying they can bring chaos and irreparable damage to the orderly progressive prosperity of this province.

"In one session they could smash our credit, the very life-blood of this province.

"They could kill payroll after payroll by erecting a wall against the millions that would otherwise come here.

"They could kill freedom of choice and individual initiative.

"They could kill the way of life which has made our Empire great, our Canada great, our way of life which won this war.

"The decision for the future is not mine.

"It is yours.

"The future of our province, the future of your province is in your hands, and you will soon have to decide which you want—freedom or socialism.

"If you favor the course we have followed it is for you to say.

"If you wish it to continue, then you must prepare before it is too late."

DONT LET IT FLY OUT THE WINDOW!

That post-war car—or radio, or home—may never materialize should you decide to "cash in" now on the Victory Bonds you have been buying so faithfully.

Your need for ready cash may be urgent: for taxes, or a sudden illness, or one of a hundred other emergency situations. But if you sell, you not only reduce your share in the financing of the war . . . you also reduce your chances of ever owning what you had planned to buy, after the war.

So don't sell your Victory Bonds. Instead, use them as security for a bank loan. Pay off your loan by convenient instalments . . . and get your Bonds back when the loan is repaid.

YOU CAN ALWAYS BORROW ON YOUR VICTORY BONDS

Any branch of The Royal Bank of Canada will immediately lend you money on your Victory Bonds at special low rates. It's an important extra reason for buying all you can.
