RUGGED FORD VEHICLES, built strong and tough by Canadian workmen, have borne the brunt of many hard-fought battles. That amazing piece of engineering - the Ford V-8 Engine - is today supplying a goodly share of the horsepower so essential in waging modern warfare.

The Ford V-8 Engine drags guns into forward positions. It hustles troops from one part of the front to another. It lugs up ammunition, food, motor fuel; transports refugees and prisoners of war.

In the harvest field it is just as efficient, dependable and economical of fuel and oil as on the battlefield. Today it plays a prominent part in producing the nation's food and transporting it to market.

Whether it is being used to power an army truck, a universal carrier, or an artillery tractor on the war front, or the truck engaged in essential transport here in Canada, the Ford V-8 Engine is a power plant that is dependable and trouble-free. On the battlefield or the harvest field it has power to spare.
