MINISTER OF HEALTH TOLD OF NEED FOR INDIAN V.D. HOSPITAL HERE

The serious problem regarding venereal disease in Prince Rupert area, arising from the presence of Indians, was outlined to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of pensions and national health, in a letter from Hon. R. L. Maitland, attorney-general, who advocated the use of Digby Island Hospital as a V.D. institution.

A copy of the letter was received in Prince Rupert this morning by Inspector Ernest Gammon.

Mr. Maitland in his letter to the minister said, "The real difficulty in the North is that the Indian Department has no place to take care of these cases amongst the Indians."

He explained that the 35-bed hospital on Digby Island, built as part of the immigration facilities years ago, was in good shape and was not being used.

"It could well be used for taking care of this very serious situation in the north country arising from the present lack of facilities to take care of the Indian problem, and I am, therefore, drawing it to your attention with the hope that you may be able to take some action to get the use of the Digby Island Hospital for this purpose."

TIMELY RECIPES

BLUEBERRY SHERBET

2 cups fresh blueberries
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Pinch of salt
2 egg whites

Pick over, wash and drain berries. Crush, add sugar and heat slowly, stirring constantly until the sugar is melted; simmer gently 5 minutes. Press through a fine sieve; cool, then stir in water, orange and lemon juice. Turn into the freezing tray of refrigerator and freeze to a thick mush. Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Turn the partially frozen sherbet out into a chilled bowl, beat until very light and fold in the beaten egg whites, combining thoroughly. Return to the freezing tray and freeze until firm. Six to eight servings.
