NO NEED TO WORRY . . .

If you are not hearing regularly these days from that boy of yours who is overseas with the navy, the army or the air force, there is no need to be unduly worried.

It is easy for us to conjure up all sorts of things if weeks elapse and we do not hear from him. There are many very good reasons why we may not be hearing.

In the first place these men of our overseas are having a busy time in this war of fast-moving events.

It is easy for those of us in the settled comfort of our homes with more or less leisure on our hands to keep up our correspondence, which even at that some of us do not do.

But it is not so easy for the boys to find the opportunity and the time to write. They are travelling a lot these days—no matter what the service—a lot of their time is spent in the actual fighting business—writing conditions may not be so good—for some of them there may be a lot of interesting things to see and do in their time off.

Censorship in the face of big events impending may be also causing interruption.

Just put yourself in the position of the boys and consider if you yourself would be writing home so regularly.

Above all, do not worry—very true under these circumstances may be the old saying: "No news is good news." There are many more possible good reasons than bad ones for your boy not writing home.

SOLDIERS AND THE CCF . . .

For some time now Socialist orators and propagandists have been telling us that "the soldiers are going to vote CCF," says The Ottawa Journal.

Well, in the recent New Brunswick provincial election 12,625 soldiers cast their votes, and this, according to the official tabulation, is how they cast them:

For the Prog. Conservatives	5,325
For the Liberals	5,055
For the CCF	2,245

No one knows, or can know, how members of the armed forces are going to vote. What every sensible person must know is that the Socialist claim about their overwhelming preference for the CCF is just trumped-up nonsense.

PUBLISHING LETTERS . . .

There are many issues in which there exists only a thin line separating right from wrong and good from evil and it is often extremely difficult to decide where the line should be drawn, writes R. J. Deachman.

An enthusiast for a certain political party—the name of the party shall not be mentioned for it does not matter in the least—wrote a letter to the editor of a city daily, claiming that if this particular party were elected there was a chance of an average income of $5,000 per worker, per year, in Canada.

The average industrial worker in Canada, and this includes those on salaries as well as wages, now earns about $1,200 per annum. The total wage bill in Canadian industry in 1940 was $920,800,000. There were 762,000 workers employed. With $5,000 payment per worker, the wage bill would be $3,810 millions which, of course, would close every factory in Canada. In fact on this basis there have been years, 1935 is an example, in which the total wage bill would be greater than the entire value of the products produced, leaving nothing for the cost of raw material or other items of cost.

The question is should an editor publish such a letter?

If he does it may induce people to vote on the basis, of a pure fabrication, for this particular party. On the other hand naturally he likes to have, in his columns, free discussion and if the letter be published the chances are that someone may answer it and thus bring out the facts.

Or should he publish it with a footnote explaining the difficulty and making clear his own point of view?

CHAPLAIN TALKS—

ARMY AND RELIGION

Father Fleming Speaks Candidly and Gives Some Reasons

"The response of the men in the forces towards religion is our headache," said Chaplain J. J. Fleming of Cleveland, Roman Catholic padre to the United States forces in this area, in speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday at the regular weekly luncheon. Unfortunately, Father Fleming admitted, there was a deterioration in the army generally toward religion and moral standards. The speaker said that he had searched for the reason and had come to the conclusion that an important factor in this lack of response to religion was probably because of the removal of men from the association of home life and particularly good and refined women such as mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts. The deterioration might not be noticed so much in a settled and decent community like Prince Rupert but it was to be observed that there was a deterioration in the attitude and conduct of many men who were long stationed in isolated places. The padre hastened, however, to say that this was not the case with all men in the services. There were those who, in the face of bad associations and even ridicule, maintained good standards. Padre Fleming's address was on the work of a United States Army chaplain and it was a very interesting discourse. He told of some of his experiences in preparation for the chaplaincy service including four weeks of concentrated and arduous training. Speaking generally, the policy of the chaplaincy was along broad lines with emphasis on the denominational aspect. The result was that there was a respectable absence of religious bias, something that the padre indicated in an expression of his own admiration for the Jewish people. "After my experience with the Jews in the army I could never be anti-Semitic. They are warm-hearted and an admirable people."

Nor was there any compulsion about church parades in the United States Army, said the padre. The large measure of co-operation of the army authorities and the officers towards the chaplains and their work was another factor of mention. "In our army the chaplain is not only the spiritual adviser but the champion of the cause and rights of the enlisted men. He is regarded not as an officer but, first and foremost, as a clergyman."

President F. J. Skinner was in the chair at the luncheon and guests of the day were William Terry and Norman Boyd of Vancouver.

The winner in the raffle of a War Savings Certificate was W. D. Lambie.

Past President J. W. Scott and a committee of other past presidents were delegated to draw up a list of nominees for the election of officers for 1945.

LETTERBOX

LIBERTY OR GESTAPO

Editor, Daily News: Regarding "Liberty or Gestapo of Socialism" in your valued paper of September 16, it seems amusing or perhaps a little sad that a man in this advanced age should know so little of the philosophy of Socialism as does Ed. McCormack. Before expressing his views on this all-important question, it would be wise for him to spend a few dollars on some good Socialist books and study them well.

The masses of the people are not so easily fooled at this time after passing through the hungry thirties brought about by the two old parties through poor management and carelessness. The natural resources on this earth are for all who live on the earth and who should be the rightful owners thereof instead of a few who now own the resources and deal them out to the public for whatever they desire to ask.

Hitler and Mussolini are the products of the present competitive system. Should the profit system continue then we will have another war which will outclass this one. Such is the history of the world. Most wars have been fought for the profit of some one.

The C.C.F. is doing a splendid job in bringing Socialism to the Canadian public. Socialism is the only solution of our economic problem—giving the creative wealth to the masses who produce the wealth instead of a few who live from the labor of others. Then there would be no need for poverty as we would have the privilege to work and live an honest and useful life.

As for the Japanese perhaps, the peace conference will settle that question. However, the Japanese were brought here by our big business to get cheap labor, and, as long as they worked for low wages and took the jobs from our laboring men they were very nice Japs. But when they started businesses of their own, and sold goods more cheaply they became despised by those who brought them here. So now you have them on your hands—don't blame the C.C.F. for your undoing.

Canada's Gift Used For War Charities

CANBERRA, Sept. 21 (P. M.) — In 1942 the Queen's Canadian Fund allotted $5,000 ($22,500) for the relief of air raid victims in Australia, but when the money was not needed for this purpose, permission was given to use it for Australian war charities.

The first $1,000 was spent on furnishing a new Missions to Seamen Club at Williamstown, Melbourne. The club was officially opened by T. C. Davis, the Canadian High Commissioner.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

September 21, 1924

A special article in the Daily News pointed out the desire of people in the Peace River district for a railway outlet to the coast. The article outlined the wealth, and development of the district.

The federal government meteorological bureau, which was established in Westview for two years, was moved to Digby Island. H. O. Crew was in charge.

The Prince Rupert Canadian Club decided to extend an invitation to Prime Minister Mackenzie King to be guest of honor at a luncheon on his arrival in the city October 13.

Smithers Couple Leave For South

SMITHERS, Sept. 21 — Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Evitt who recently sold their business, Evitt's Hardware and Electric, to Watts and Nickerson of Prince Rupert, left Smithers on Tuesday morning by car to motor to Vancouver and thence to Vancouver Island where Mr. Evitt expects to locate. They have resided in Smithers and the Bulkley Valley ever since 1919.

BULKLEY VALLEY HAS FIRST SNOW

Heavy Fall On Mountains—Harvest Completed

SMITHERS, Sept. 21—Following a heavy fall of rain here on last Saturday the mountains of the Babine Range and Hudson Bay Mountain were covered with a heavy blanket of snow which came quite a long way down the slopes, nearly to timber line.

Although it is not early to see the mountain slopes white with snow it is not usual to see so much at this time of the year.

During the very fine and sunny part of August and first part of September good use was made of the time to get harvesting and threshing done and much of the grain and timothy seed has been harvested in fine condition. The hay crop was pretty light, owing to the lack of moisture during the growing season, but the later rains helped the grains immensely and these show a very good crop.

Pioneer Veteran's Funeral Is Held

SMITHERS, Sept. 21 — The funeral of the late William J. Finnigan was held on Sunday afternoon from the United Church, Rev. C. E. Motte conducting the service. It was attended by members of Bulkley Valley Branch, Canadian Legion, of which deceased had been a member since the branch was first started. Last Post was sounded at the grave by Sgt. J. E. Finnigan, son of the deceased, and then Reveille. Pall bearers were J. W. Turner, Fred Boyd, H. E. Wallace, Jas. Hogg, Wm. Little and L. H. Kenney.

WASTE NOT, WANT NOT

Save Food for Fighters! Here are 10 FOOD-SAVING RULES For Wartime

- PLAN FOOD BUYING CAREFULLY
Buy only the foods you know your family will eat. Calculate quantities so that there are no left-overs.
- PLANT A VICTORY GARDEN
Help to increase Canada's food production by growing your own vegetables and fruits. Raise chickens and dry other stock you can.
- AVOID WASTE IN PREPARING
Measure all ingredients. Watch vegetable and fruit peelings—peel them thin. Cook potatoes in skins.
- COOK FOODS PROPERLY
Follow your cook book carefully so as to avoid waste and retain maximum food values.
- SERVE SMALLER PORTIONS
Start a Clean Plate Club in your home! Don't urge second helpings—let them ask for more.
- SAVE LEFT-OVERS
When you do cook too much, save meat and vegetable remnants for stews, bones for soups, bread-crumbs for stuffings.
- SAVE SURPLUS FATS
Use what you need in your own cooking. What's left over burn in with your other salvage.
- DO NOT HOARD
Canada has a sufficiency of all the foods you need. Don't hoard or buy foods for the sake of using up your ration coupons.
- ENCOURAGE OTHERS TO SAVE
Share with your friends any food saving tips you hear or read. Don't spread gossip about "shortages" or tips that may start runs on unrationed foods.
- REDUCE YOUR FOOD BILL
Choose economical foods—those with concentrated nutrition! Try to keep down and reduce your total food bill.

GOLDEN SYRUP

AVAILABLE IN 2-LB., 5-LB. AND 10-LB. TINS

THE FOOD situation in Canada, as throughout the world, remains critical. Nothing must be wasted. Every last pound of vegetables and fruits from home gardens must be harvested and stored. In addition to canning, preserving and pickling there are several other ways to store fruits and vegetables for future use. The housewife is urged to consult an authoritative book on the subject. The following methods should be investigated:

- 1. SALTING. Such vegetables as cabbage (sauerkraut), beans, greens and corn may be preserved with salt, in stone crocks or glass jars.
- 2. DRYING. A long list of fruits and vegetables may be dried in one of three ways: Sun Drying, Cabinet Drying, Oven Drying.
- 3. PIT STORAGE. Open air storage in pit, mound or barrel is suitable for such vegetables as potatoes, carrots, turnips, cabbage, beets, parsnips; also apples.
- 4. CELLAR STORAGE. Produce stored in the cellar requires good ventilation away from furnace area. Conditions and methods vary over wide range of fruits and vegetables.
