COMEDY IS SPEEDY ONE

"Standing Room Only" Coming to Capitol Theatre for Three Days

Heralded as one of the fastest-moving comedies to be turned out by Hollywood in recent years, "Standing Room Only," arrives this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre.

The picture stars Paulette Goddard and Fred MacMurray, with Edward Arnold, Roland Young and Porter Hall as supporting players.

The story concerns the rooming shortage in Washington and on this theme is built the completely wacky story which is said to be provoking gales of laughter.

Paulette and Fred are called upon to fill roles of cook and butler, quite by accident, in order to get overnight lodgings in the nation's capital. The arrangement is so convenient that they decide to carry on as domestic servants. Roland Young, master of the household when his wife, Ann Revere, isn't henpecking him to distraction, is as lenient a taskmaster as could be found anywhere.

He obliges Fred by permitting him days off in order for the latter to put through an important business deal, the original purpose of his visit. Paulette, really his secretary, covers up for the absent butler, providing more complications to an already tangled situation.

MIDLANDS

Sgt. Jack Skitch, who has returned from the west coast, is now stationed at Kingston.

Sgt. D. N. Martin of Colborne was among the men of a forward detachment of a Canadian-American combat group at the Anzio beachhead who were interviewed recently by Ben Malkin, representing the combined Canadian Press. Sgt. Martin and other non-commissioned officers regularly lead patrols into enemy territory.

Owing to bad ice conditions on the Great Lakes, the corvette Cobourg was unable to make her trials and be in Cobourg at the opening of the Sixth Victory Loan, as she had been scheduled to do.

TAILORING BY MAIL

LONDON — British prisoners of war are receiving postal lessons in tailoring and those who show aptitude, said officials of tailor associations, will be guaranteed jobs after the war.
