Warns of Tasks When War Over

LONDON, Nov. 16 (P)—Major Gwilyn Lloyd George, minister of fuel and power, in a luncheon speech gave this warning to the over-optimistics:

"The war is not over, yet and it is far better for us to make up our minds that it is not over until it is finished."

"We are about to enter the sixth winter and we all hope it is the last, but do not let us delude ourselves that the period we enter afterwards will be a peaceful and happy one in contrast to this."

"There are tremendous tasks ahead as soon as the war is over."

AID IN TRAFFIC CONVICTION

Pupils of Borden Street public school played a part in the conviction of a driver charged with speeding in a school zone by guarding tire skid marks on the pavement where the car was braked to a sudden stop to avoid hitting a child and later by identifying the car to the police.

Wednesday afternoon in city police court Staff Sgt. G. W. Atwill, 222 Ninth Avenue West, was found guilty of driving at excessive speed through a school zone on November 8. He was fined $10 or three days.

At the hearing S. A. Cheeseman, principal of Borden Street school told how a small boy had dashed from the school at noon hour a week ago and run across the street in front of an oncoming car. The driver braked the car suddenly to avoid hitting the boy and then drove on.

Hearing the squeal of the brakes, Mr. Cheeseman went onto the street and saw the skid marks, he said. He estimated that the car was exceeding the speed limit.

He posted four boys to guard the marks while he telephoned the police. The grade six youngsters diverted traffic around the marks so they would not be erased.

Later, some of the boys identified the car to police.

In police court yesterday Atwill, who pleaded guilty, said that he had not exceeded the 15 mile-an-hour limit while passing the school.

KINSMEN TO GET CHARTER

Plans for celebration of the club's charter night reached their final stage at the regular weekly meeting of the Prince Rupert Kinsmen's Club last night. The charter will be presented to the newly organized club by Fred Grimmett of Chilliwack, district governor of Kinsmen.

The celebration will take the form of a banquet and dance in the Commodore ballroom next Wednesday night and committees have been appointed to make preparations and for the entertainment of Mr. and Mrs. Grimmett while they are in the city.

The meeting moved the acceptance of a panel of model by-laws suggested by the national association of Kinsmen, adopting them for the local club.

Support for an appeal by the I. O. D.E. for used trousers to be made into clothing for the children of Britain was also adopted.

A letter from the city clerk was read, informing the club that its request to erect a Kinsmen sign on the highway near the city limits had been approved by city council.

Stuart Johnston was accepted as a new member.

Jack Joy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Joy, returned home Wednesday on furlough from Vancouver where he enlisted in the Navy last week.

Canada has 24,500 miles of coastline.

SOUND MARKET POLICY NEEDED

Return of Boats From War Service Is Discussed

Delegates to the first annual convention of the B.C. Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, at their Wednesday night session, heard speakers stress the importance of a co-ordinated marketing policy for Pacific coast fish products.

Speakers affirmed the fact that the policy of the co-operatives is to produce superior products, ensuring that consumers will get good value for their money. Discussion of definite sales policies will be held at a later session of the convention.

The return of fishing boats now owned by the armed services was considered and a committee appointed with power to take whatever action it considers advisable.

Sessions of the convention continued this morning and afternoon.

OF CROW FAMILY

The magpie belongs to the crow family and is scientifically termed Pica Pica.

Sea Breezes from ... SEAL COVE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen, the former Cecile Cavenaile, have left Prince Rupert with the intention of settling in the south. They expect to look around the Fraser valley area before finally deciding where to locate.

The "wild goose" which is living in a tame state around Seal Cove belongs to another family altogether. It is a crane and lost its mate some years ago through the untimely intervention of an un-insulated power line. Since then the beautiful bird has haunted the place in solitary splendor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boddie and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid McLean have acquired the old Lanfer and French place at Terrace. It was at one time a favorite resort of the children of Prince Rupert. It was owned presently by Peter Van Stook.

SIMPLE WORDS ARE REQUESTED

LONDON, Nov. 16 (P)—The War Office wants its staff to use plain English. It wants words and phrases like "terminate," "furnish your remarks," "until such time as," and "facilitate" to leave the War Office vocabulary in favor of "end," "say," "until," and "help."

There is a new order about it, officially described as "austerity typing." But the typists and others affected are having a quite laugh about it.

The order is one of the most verbose they have ever seen. It says:

"Nothing is more conducive to long-winded and stilted writing than the use of a formal, pedantic or polysyllabic substitute for the natural word or expression that first comes to mind."

"There will be occasions, relatively rare, when they will be wanted, quite legitimately, to convey a different shade of meaning."

"They should never be used, simply because it is thought that they sound more official, more formal, more stylish or more impressive than their everyday equivalents."

SMITHERS

The final figures that have been tabulated for the Seventh Victory Loan at Smithers, which figures include the C.N.R. staff here, show that $62,550 was subscribed in this area, making 156.3 percent of the quota of $40,000. In percentage of subscriptions this town is believed to compare very favorably with other points throughout the country.

Vincent Segur M.L.A. and William Irvine, C.C.F. speakers who are traversing the province and this constituency, spoke in the Anglican Hall at Smithers Tuesday evening in support of their candidate for Skeena riding, L. A.C. Harry Archibald. The meeting was fairly well attended, there being about 60 people in the audience.

A total of 3800 ration books were issued from Smithers at the last issue of these books a few weeks ago. These books covered the territory from Hazelton to North Bulkley valley inclusive and give a pretty close estimate of the population in the area covered.

SOO-SUD NOTES

Hon. George Doucette, Ontario highways minister, arrived in Ste. Marie recently in a return visit for the purpose of meeting township officials regarding the highway problem.

Results of the American elections were watched in the border Canadian city of Sault Ste. Marie with keen interest. It was the main topic of conversation and results were about what citizens had expected.

I ALWAYS GET CLEAN, QUICK SHAVES WITH BLUE GILLETTE BLADES

CLEM MCCARTHY
— Ace Reporter on Gillette's "Cavalcade of Sports"—says:

"A TRIP through the Gillette factory showed me why I always get clean, quick shaves with Blue Gillette Blades. I saw steel hardened in automatically-controlled electric furnaces . . . saw the blades sharpened in grinding machines weighing several tons—yet so precise that they are adjustable to 1/10,000 of an inch. So my advice to any man who wants to enjoy shaving is to use Blue Gillette Blades."
