DRAMA IS SHOWING

Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins Stars of "Old Aquaintance."

A moving drama of two women, diametrically opposed in character, whose lives, nevertheless, are closely interwoven throughout a long span of years, will be presented at the Capitol Theatre on Monday and Tuesday. The picture is "Old Acquaintance," which reunites the two stars of "The Old Maid," Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins.

Bette Davis is cast as a successful young novelist who visits her home town as the guest of her childhood friend, Miriam Hopkins, hard, calculating young matron, with a soft, feminine exterior. Although happily married and an expectant mother she secretly envies Bette and strives to emulate her. She writes a sugar-coated novel and, with the aid of Bette, it becomes a huge success.

The next eight years see Miriam as the author of as many consecutive best sellers, living in splendor and enjoying herself hugely. Her domineering airs and lavish living serve to alienate both her husband and her daughter who turn to Bette for warmth and sympathy.

In a heated quarrel with Miriam, the husband packs up and leaves, but not before declaring his love for Bette and asking her to go with him. She refuses out of loyalty for Mirian. It is ten years before they meet again.

Miriam plots to win her husband back and when she fails, vents her spite on Bette, accusing her of stealing her husband and playing around with a young man. Bettie, fed up with Miriam's ways, decides to marry.

Miriam becomes repentant and the two old friends, faced with a lonely middle-age, drink together to "old acquaintance."

The strong supporting cast includes Philip Reed, Roscoe Karns, Anne Revere, Esther Dale, Joseph Crehan, Ann Codee and Marjorie Hoshelle.

Revival Of Native Arts

LONDON, March. 4. (CP) — Mass education campaigns among Africans, including the use of the movies and radio, and the revival of native arts and industries are recommended in a report by a sub-committee of the Colonial Advisory Committee on education in the colonies.

The problems are of grave urgency, says the committee, if the "explosive temper" caused by changing native outlook is to be wisely controlled. Among proposals for improving local crafts and artistic developments the committee includes the introduction of more mechanical devices and modern ballroom dancing and games.

The committee urges co-ordination of the work of all educational, social, commercial and industrial agencies of British African dependencies in a mass drive against illiteracy.

Bringing Home the Bacon:

Her fellow passengers didn't mind her bringing home the bacon but when it came to that armload of groceries, they had a right to kick. They knew that it would delay the bus, get them home a little later, leave people standing in the rain, and put more grey hairs in the driver's head.

Please, Folks, do not take large parcels on the bus during rush hours.
