CONCERT FOR TROOPS HERE

Sing-Song Ever Popular — Some Old Timers Heard Including "Pop" Reil.

(By Dorothy Garbutt)

So popular are the sing-songs at the Sunday night concerts in the Capitol Theatre that Chester now uses them as an introduction to each evening's entertainment. Two of the tunes which amused the audience was "Honey Have a Mmmph on Me" and "I've Got Sixpence." Lois Vaughan accompanied the sing-song and it was just like old times to see her back at the keyboards. Back in the pioneer era of 1940-41-42 Lois played for nearly all the Sunday night sing-songs over at the Legion and later at the 'Y' Hut.

Frances Moore played a medley of popular airs—tunes we like to hear. Frances improvises delightfully and her melodies flow into each other effortlessly and with charming effect. Next came Lest Patrick with a "corner on corn" and a new Albert poem about Albert receiving the medal at least he almost received it but managed to talk himself out of it.

Another real old timer on what we laughingly call the 'Y' circuit was "Pop" Reil. Prince Rupert's own genuine dyed in the wool vaudevillian. Pop made his start more years ago than he likes to remember, not in vaudeville, but as a singer in beer gardens in the city of Pittsburgh. It was a hard life but the performers learned to know the likes and dislikes of their audiences the hard way a knowledge that stood them in good stead all during their professional life. Later he went into stock, playing musical comedies week in and week out and a different role each week. And the musical comedies in those days weren't the gorgeous technicolor Hollywood spectacles they are today. To get over they demanded good acting and good dancing and more good acting. Years on the RKO circuit followed and then, as his final professional work, a prolonged engagement with the Ferriss Hartmann Company of San Francisco. With Pop in his first skit Sunday night was Olive Reil, his wife, who has been his partner in vaudeville for twenty-six years. Others in the skit, which was all about a perfume guaranteed to act as a love potion but mis-fired, were Chester le Maistre and Connie Tomlinson. It was riotously funny.

Syd Moore, who is going on furlough shortly but promises to be back with a lot of new songs, sang several amusing lyrics, accompanying himself on the ukelele. After that George and Pat entertained in a bright ventriloquist number. George was resplendent in a new red jersey and posh patent leather oxfords.

The program ended with another short skit by Pop Reil and Company, this one playing up to the old Barnum adage that "There's a sucker born every minute." In this skit the feminine support was given by Margaret Smith and Clara Reil, Pop's daughter who incidentally made her debut—and a very graceful one—on the stage. The audience was so enthusiastic that it kept Pop taking call after call and encore after encore. He played, he sang, he clowned and still they wanted more. And, like a good trouper, he gave them more. For his generous contribution to the troop's happiness we do most sincerely thank him.

a view to expanding secondary industries and developing wider use of by-products from the manufacture of our natural resources to encourage greater development after the war.

Legislation will be introduced to implement the gift of 1,000,000 acres of land to British Columbia veterans desirous of taking up farming under the Dominion Government's Veterans' Land Act 1942.

It is proposed to encourage trained and experienced prospectors to develop the mineral resources of this province by special aid under the Wartime Prospectors' Grubstake Act. These prospectors will be financed and their work carried out under proper field supervision.

You will be asked to appropriate funds to provide extensive public works including highways and buildings as soon as men and material are available, in addition, you will be requested to make special provision for an extraordinary program of road maintenance.

Legislation will be introduced enabling the province to enter into an agreement with the Dominion Government for the carrying out of vocational training in order that men and women may be properly trained to take their places in peace-time occupancy.

My government is pleased to announce that preferential treatment will be given British Columbians who served in the forces in connection with employment in the civic service.

TAX BURDEN TO BE LIGHTENED

Measures will be introduced for the lightening of the tax burden.

Provision will be asked for further financial assistance to cities, district municipalities and rural areas in connection with the cost of education.

My government will cause an enquiry to be made into all fields of municipal endeavor and responsibilities. It will also undertake a survey of the entire system of education and its cost in order to determine what additional assistance or reforms are deemed necessary in the light of modern requirements so that adjustments may be made at the termination of the war.

Approval of the legislature will be sought to extend the free distribution of text books to include all those required by students from grades one to six inclusive.

It is proposed to grant further tax relief by the rebate of a percentage of the automobile licences applicable to all passenger cars.

LEGISLATION WILL BE INTRODUCED TO GRANT FARMERS TOTAL EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION OF IMPROVEMENTS. FURTHER MEASURES OF ASSISTANCE TO THOSE IN THE ARMED SERVICES IS PROPOSED BY THE REMISSION OF ALL TAXES LEVIED ON LANDS AND BUILDINGS DURING THEIR PERIODS OF ENLISTMENT.

You will be asked to give power to the government to remit under special circumstances the succession duties payable by the estate of the member of the forces who has lost his life as a result of the war.

HIGHWAY TO PEACE RIVER

In conformity with the announcement made at the last session of the legislature the government caused several highway routes to be surveyed to determine the most suitable outlet to the Pacific coast from the Peace River district. As a result of these surveys my government has decided to proceed with the location of the route recommended and you will be asked to make provision for the necessary funds to enable its immediate construction. This undertaking will retain for our people the benefits arising from the development of that territory. This outlet also will serve to connect British Columbia's road system with the Alaska Highway.

I am gratified to see that a Royal Commission has been appointed to enquire into all matters affecting our forest resources so that this industry may be perpetuated and our assets conserved.

Members of the House will be asked to approve legislation authorizing regulations designed to promote the development of the potential oil and coal resources of the province.

I note with pleasure that since the legislature last met the financial aid given to old age pensioners has been supplemented and my government has made additional representations to the Federal authorities asking for a further increase in the benefits and the lowering of the age limit.

Two reports of the public utilities commission in connection with the value and operation of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd. and subsidiary companies will be presented for your consideration.

An interim report from the hydro-electric committee appointed since the last session of the legislature to study the feasibility of rural electrification also will be submitted.

The committee on civil service reorganization made satisfactory progress and has outlined a basis for the regrading of positions and readjustments of salaries of government employees.

The financial policies pursued during recent years has enabled the government to effect a considerable decrease in the amount and rate of interest payable. The resultant improvement in provincial credit is such as to commend itself highly to all members of the legislature.

Minor legislation of a character designed to improve existing acts will be submitted.

The public accounts will be presented and estimates for the ensuing year will be laid before you.

I pray that the blessing of Divine Providence may rest upon your labours.

which would meet the situation brought about. This probably is one of the hardest problems which private enterprise will have to face but, in order to survive, it must be solved.

"War markets will vanish with the cessation of hostilities and peacetime markets must be developed. That means we will have to start from zero and lay a foundation for free trading and a non-nationalistic post-war world. This cannot be on the basis of national markets alone but it must tie in with an international and interdependent world, thereby linking together the remotest portions of the world with no restrictions by tariffs and trade barriers. Private enterprise can and will supply the demands that would thus be created.

"Our post-war goal in this connection should be to see that the individual has the right to do the work for which he is most fitted and not be subjected to having to take haphazard jobs which might be offered regardless of his desires and capabilities. With this right goes the right of fair pay, the right to adequate food and clothing, shelter and medical care, the right to security with freedom from fear of old age, want, dependency, sickness, unemployment and accident.

"In connection with these rights, it will be necessary to abolish monopolies, dissolve combines, avoid price-fixing, better distribution of wealth, decentralization of many things which now exist.

"I am of the firm conviction that from the huge taxes now taken from the people largely through sources of production that a return should be made, for rehabilitation purposes of a percentage of such taxes that will enable us to expand for post-war purposes.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE WAR

"In our production for war naturally domestic requirements have been side-tracked which means that there will be an increased demand for such commodities as are now depleted. This should assure the taking up of some of the slack as soon as hostilities cease and some of the immediate demands which we shall have to face will be supplying foodstuffs, a merchant marine policy to insure transportation, ample and efficient.

"Given its opportunity free private enterprise will meet any situation which may be imposed upon it just as effectively as many untried plans or propositions which so far are very obscure."

Harry McLellan, head of the North Coast Timber Co., left this afternoon on a business trip to Vancouver.

To the Health Seeker

Perhaps, a "Belief" exists that "everything has been tried and failed"? Has "faith" subsided to the low ebb of accepting as a fact, the belief that a disease is incurable? Meanwhile, a vague misgiving persists that: Somehow, somewhere there must be an answer to incurability.

Chiropractically, the greatest handicap to health restoration is: So many cherish a traditional faith or belief to the bitter end. Meantime, a simple disease descends into an indefinite and complicated realm of incurABILITY. Thus faith and belief hinders, and denies, the natural self-curableABILITY within themselves the rightful duty to remedy (meaning: to cure again).

Such statements, of disease, special or general are verified by an exhaustive survey. Over 93,000 persons turned, when disillusioned and disappointed, to Chiropractic (Nature) as a LAST resort.

Some 410 qualified Chiropractors raised no question as to the merits of faith, belief or, the competency of any remedy, to cure again. Nature had preordained that everything was incorporated within. Nature's OWN Remedy substituted incur-ABILITY for cure or marked improvement in 79,000 cases; or, 85% of tiresome, intangible disease names.

A critical reader may question this astonishing record. For the needy there are two basic considerations: The belief that a condition is obstinately incurable as, against the Chiropractic record with thousands of varied, incurable cases. Both cannot be right.

When faith and belief fails to move mountains, Mahomet must go to the mountain. Possibly, the earnest Health Seeker discerns, by the mountainous record, that everything has not been tried; that, high odds yet remain in his favor.

As Mahomet would resolve: If Chiropractic eventually, why not ... NOW!
